OHIO BUILDING COLLAPSE TRAPS SIX

NEW FRANCHISE IS VOTED FOR STREET LIGHTS

Council Action Cuts Annual Cost $1,034; Police Ask Pay Raise.

Council last night voted the Marion division of the Ohio Public Service company a 10-year franchise for operating the city street light system. The franchise replaces one that expired March [illegible].

Council also received a request from the police department for an increase in pay.

The new contract will result in a reduction of $1,034 64 a year in the charge for street lighting, city officials and company officials pointed out in the discussion of the legislation before council. Under the old rate the city was billed at the rate of $25,554.70 annually for the number of lights now in operation. Under the new contract the charge will be $24,-510 06 for the same number of lights.

1,203 Lights In Use

The new legislation revealed that the power company now maintains 1,203 street lights of various types throughout the city. The majority, 705, are 100 candle power of the overhead type, extending on arms from poles at intersections. The annual charge for this type lamp will be $16.80 each. The charge for individual lights ranges upward from this figure to $36 a year for lights using 600 candle power bulbs Including the downtown white way, cluster lights at a few points about the city, the ordinary overhead lights there are 12 different types of street lights in use Principal variation however, is in the power of the bulbs used.

It was pointed out at the meeting that the new contract is an exact duplicate of the old one, except that rates in some categories have been reduced Principal reduction was made in lights of 250 candle power.

The contract provides for a 10 per cent discount on all billings if they are paid by June 30 and Dec 31 of each year.

Schedule Specified

The contract specifies that the lights shall operate each night from a half hour after sunset until a half hour before sunrise.

Harold J Grigsby, vice president of OPS and general manager of the Marion division, attended the council meeting He informed councilmen the company is making a complete study of the street lighting system with a view of effecting changes and improvements as rapidly as materials become available

Reflectors difficult to obtain for a number of years because they contain zinc, a critical material are to be replaced, where needed as rapidly as they are available he said.

Police Pay Request

In their request for additional pay members of the police department asked for an increase of $32 50 a month The request came in a communication to council filed through Police Chief Marks It was signed by all members of the department.

Police now are paid at the following rate $167.50 a month for the first year, $177 50 a month for the second year and $192 50 a month thereafter; captains,

Youth Sought For Theft from Child Hospital Patient

Police today were searching for a youth in a sailor's uniform who they said stole a radio from a child patient at City hospital last night and later pawned it for $10.

They described the youth as being between 20 and 22 years old, about five feet five inches tall and weighing approximately 135 pounds, and having blond curly hair.

He entered City hospital about 7 p. m. last night, police said, and after loitering about the corridors went to the room of six-year-old Margo Thompson and asked her if he could borrow her radio, telling her he wanted to take it to his wife on the second floor of the hospital so she could listen to a quiz program The girl consented and the youth disappeared with the radio, which he later pawned at an establishment on North Main street.

Police said Columbus police reported a youth answering the same description stole a radio at Mercy hospital in Columbus Saturday night.

A 17-year-old Marion girl who said she had met a young man wearing a sailor's uniform in Columbus Sunday was questioned by police this morning. She said she met the youth in a cafe on South High street and he had returned to Marion with her and has been staying at a hotel here. She said she had been with him on several occasions during the last two days but that she knew nothing about what he might be doing here.

DRASTIC STRIKE DECREASE SEEN

Schwellenbach Tells Congress Peace in Sight Without Curbs.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11—Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach predicted today that strikes this year would be "drastically reduced" — but he declared that major labor law changes might foster "strife" and "chaos" instead

The processes of free collective bargaining dormant during the war, are being re-learned, Schwellenbach told the house labor committee. He said it may be asserted safely "that the number of stoppages in 1947 will be drastically reduced from the number that occurred in 1946"

In another statement prepared for the committee, Paul M Herzog, chairman of the national labor relations board, said congress may get "mounting industrial strife" rather than greater industrial peace if it tampers with the Wagner act That is the law guaranteeing workers the right to bargain collectively.

Pot-Shoot at Proposals

Both government labor experts were on the witness list at hearings on a pile of bills proposing broad changes in labor laws Both took repeated pot-shots at the proposals and called for emphasis on around-the-table bargaining to curb industrial unrest.

"There is every reason to believe," Schwellenbach said, "that if labor and management are given a reasonable opportunity to work out their problems between themselves, we will not have a repetition of the tensions and disputes of the last quarter

BRITAIN AND FRANCE SIDE WITH AMERICA

Join Marshall in Movement To Block Consideration of Issue.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, March 11—France and Britain sided with the United States today in the four-power foreign ministers meeting to block a Soviet attempt to place a discussion of China on the conference agenda.

The western powers held during the long discussion that if China was to be discussed, then China must be represened.

(China's foreign minister, Wang Shih-Chieh, issued a formal statement in Nanking announcing that his nation "will not in any manner agree to inclusion of its problems" in the agenda.)

Soviet Foreign Minister V M Molotov brought up the Chinese question yesterday

In an attempt to save his proposal, he suggested that the ministers meet informally and then put out a communique since this question was of such "great importance to public opinion"

Authoritative sources said U S Secretary of State George C. Marshall would reject the Russian proposal, advanced yesterday by Foreign Minister V. M Molotov, unless Chinese representatives were called to the conference.

Marshall, who was the first of the four ministers to arrive for the first meeting yesterday at the house of the Soviet aviation industry, also was the first to arrive today for the opening at 4 p m. (8 a. m., eastern standard time)

Second to arrive, Molotov was dressed in civilian clothes rather than his official foreign office uniform French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault was third on the scene, and once again British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin was the last to appear.

Security Police Accompany

A group of Soviet security police who arrived behind Marshall fanned out across the street as he left his car and entered the building

It was not generally believed that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M Molotov, who presented the Russian proposal at the opening session of the foreign ministers council yesterday, would agree to have Chinese representatives invited here.

Marshall was expected to give Molotov his reply when the council meets later today, emphasizing that if any subject involving the sovereignty of China is to be discussed the Chinese must be summoned to the conference.

It was understood that Marshall already had given the Chinese assurances on this point.

Chinese Protest Decision

At the time of the Moscow conference of 1945, the Chinese protested bitterly that decisions by the Big Three with respect to China's future infringed upon her sovereign rights

Informed sources said the Chinese were perturbed that Molotov had brought up the Chinese question again and that they had expressed anxiety that further decisions might be made without China being represented Marshall's positions was said to be that China is a full-fledged member of the United Nations and the foreign ministers' circle, and as such should be consulted on questions which concern her.

In any event, the issue appeared to be shaping up as a test of strength between Marshall and Molotov. Diplomats of the western powers agreed that Molotov again had seized the diplomatic offensive — which Marshall had preferred to keep himself — in raising the China issue. just as he did at Paris with an opening blast against British and American policies in Italy and at New York with his disarmament proposal

In view of the American attitude there was much interest as to what Molotov would reply with regard to Marshall's suggestion that the agenda include discussion of a plan for progressive reduction of occupation forces in Europe.

Works on German Pact

And while Molotov and Marshall sparred on these questions, Foreign Minister Georges Bidault of France plugged away with some suggestions for getting ahead with the German peace treaty. He was reported ready to press for adoption of a system of [illegible]

Struck Railroad's President Victim Of Ambush Slaying

By The Associated Press

PEORIA, Ill., March 11 — George P. McNear Jr., adamant foe of the railroad brotherhoods in a prolonged strike, was assassinated last night and the state's attorney announced today he would question brotherhood officials "and anyone else who might throw light on the case."

State's Attorney Roy Hull said he would begin an intensive search for information about the shotgun slaying near McNear's home. The 55-year-old president of the strike-crippled Toledo, Peoria and Western railroad was slain while taking a walk.

Since 1941 McNear had defied 13 railroad brotherhoods whose strike against his line is one of the longest of the nation's labor disputes.

His slaying climaxed increasing unrest marked by two shootings reported to Peoria police within the last two weeks. On one occasion shots were fired into an automobile carrying non-union workers near the T. P. and W. yards at East Peoria On the other, shots were fired into the cab of one of the line's locomotives near Hollis, Ill These shootings have not been solved.

Rechecks All Witnesses

Detective Chief Fred Nussbaum said he was rechecking all witnesses to the McNear assassination to determine whether his killer fired from an automobile or was on foot

McNear's walking stick, he said, was found across the street from where his bullet-pierced body lay. Nussbaum said McNear, a powerfully built man might have been shot where the cane was found and staggered across the street, or he might have flung his cane at his attacker

Nussbaum described McNear as "an aggressive man" who might have hurled his stick in a desperate attempt to halt his slayer

Coroner Chauncey Wood said he found no powder burns on the victim's body, which he said indicated he was not fired upon at close range

The 239-mile feeder railroad across Illinois from Effner, Ind, to Keokuk, Ia, has been crippled continuously for the last 17 months by a strike The company-union dispute has been marked by litigation, shootings, fires, and obstruction of trains. Two pickets were killed and three were wounded at Gridley, Ill., Feb. 6, 1946. Four railroad guards later were acquitted of manslaughter in that shooting

Wounded by Six Bullets

McNear, father of four children, was wounded by six shots Police said pea-sized pellets from an automatic type weapon were found in the chest, neck and right arm of the railroad president.

His crumpled body was found between the sidewalk and the curb, a block from his home on a bluff overlooking the Illinois river, by a physician, Dr. Robert Sutton.

Dr. Sutton said he heard rapid gunfire in front of his home and saw a car speeding away from the scene about 11.45 p. m.

McNear died at 12 15 a m at St Francis hospital His widow, Elizabeth, said he had attended the Bradley university-Colorado State college basketball game and was taking a walk, which he did frequently before retiring.

The T. P. and W. was purchased in 1926 at a receiver's auction by McNear, a mechanical engineering graduate of Cornell who moved from railroad construction work into Wall Street investment circles

TRUMAN O.K.'S EXCISE TAXES

Signs Law Keeping Luxury Levies at High Wartime Rate.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11 — President Truman today signed legislation extending the wartime excise tax rates.

The legislation continues indefinitely the high wartime levies on such items as liquor, furs, jewelry and cosmetics, and for transportation and telephone services.

Mr. Truman requested the legislation to prevent an automatic rollback of rates that would have taken place July 1 in connection with ending of war powers measures. The rollback would have brought a loss of an estimated $1,-200,000,000 annually in tax revenue.

The legislation, as an example, continues the levy on liquor at $9 a proof gallon, whereas it would have dropped to $6 on July 1

The measure exempts from the fur tax all women's fur-trimmed coats up to $150 value, and removes the levy on transportation tickets for foreign travel Transportation taxes still will be levied for travel in this country and in certain areas of the Western Hemisphere north of the equator, except South America.

RED CROSS WORKERS REPORT TOMORROW

Solicitors Urged To Continue Efforts on $15,000 Needed.

Workers in the Marion County Red Cross financial campaign will hold their third report meeting Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock at campaign headquarters at 193 East Center street.

With more than $15,000 yet to be raised in the county's goal of $27,060, it is important that every worker turn in a report tomorrow night, Clarence Shockney, campaign chairman said today. While we know the workers in the county are on the job, we are anxious to have as complete a report as can be made at the Wednesday night meeting. Workers in the city also are expected to make reports to date at the meeting.

"We are still hoping to end the campaign by Saturday," Mr. Shockney said today. Anyone who has not been contacted because of being away from home when the solicitor calls or because of employment, is asked to contract a worker or the Red Cross office and a solicitor will arrange to collect the contribution, Mr. Shockney said. We also would like to appeal to organizations which have voted contributions but have not forwarded them, to send them to the office of the Red Cross at the earliest possible convenience, so we will know where we stand, he continued.

Airlines Navigator Falls Into Atlantic In Freak Accident

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 11 — A navigator sighting on the stars from his plastic bubble atop Trans-World Airline's "Star of Hollywood" was tossed through the dome and dropped four miles into the Atlantic ocean 500 miles out of Gander, Newfoundland, last night, TWA officials here announced.

Victim of the freak accident was George Hart of Sag Harbor, Long Island, N. Y., TWA officials said. The pilot was O. F. Hamilton of Richmond, Va, a check pilot on the flight.

The plane, which was flying at an air speed of about 250 miles an hour at an altitude of 19,000 feet, made a safe return to the Gander airport at 10:34 p. m. The accident occurred at 7:28 p. m.

The Coast Guard sent a message to all ships in the area to be on the lookout for the lost navigator The guard said there was scant possibility he could have survived the long fall.

Officials of Lockheed Aircraft Co, manufacturers of the Constellation plane, said their service man at Gander advised them that the 21 passengers "hardly knew anything had happened until the plane landed at Gander."

The Lockheed officials said parts of the plastic bubble, or astrodome, which rises about 18 inches above the top of the plane over the forward flight deck, were still in its frame.

The flight deck is separate from the passengers' compartment.

Reports received here did not state whether other members of the ten-man crew saw Navigator Hart leave the plane, or what had caused the plastic dome to break and the navigator to be thrown upward through the opening.

UNIVERSAL GASOLINE PRICE HIKE EXPECTED

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 11 — An increase of one and a half cents a gallon for gasoline, announced yesterday by the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, is expected to be general with other oil companies, trade circles reported today.

The Sohio price hike will become effective tomorrow at all the concern's service stations. Hereafter regular grade gasoline will cost 21 cents and premium grades 23 cents.

Sohio announced its boosted price following widespread increases of 25 cents a barrel of crude oil on the part of many major petroleum producers. The Cleveland-Chatham crude marketed by Sohio was similarly raised 25 cents yesterday.

Warren C. Platt, publisher of National Petroleum News, industry trade paper, advanced two main reasons for the crude price rise.

One factor is that drilling costs have risen but crude oil prices have lagged proportionately behind figures for refined petroleum products.

In addition, Platt said [illegible]

FEAR FIVE MAY NOT BE DUG OUT IN TIME

Reach One Cincinnati Victim; Others Stop Talking.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, March 11—Five men trapped under the debris of a five-story building which collapsed today, ceased talking early this afternoon to firemen who were tearing through twisted steel, crumbled bricks and splintered wood in an effort to reach them.

Three and a half hours after the structure crashed with a roar that shook surrounding buildings in the downtown bottoms area, firemen sawed their way through fallen timbers to rescue Sam Ostrov, owner of the building

Fire Chief Barney J. Houston, who was directing rescue efforts, expressed doubt that the trapped men could be reached in time to save their lives.

Removed on a stretcher, Ostrov talked with firemen as he was taken to a hospital for examination.

Chief Houston said the work was slowed because portions of the building still standing threatened to fall He also said gas from broken mains filled the basement, making rescue work hazardous

The fire chief estimated the workers would have to burrow through 30 feet of debris to reach the next of the imprisoned men.

Seven Taken To Hospital

At least seven persons were injured They were taken to General hospital, where they were identified as,

Matt Tonkovitch, 51, hurt around around forehead and legs.

Earl Bortos, 30, hurt about the back.

Henry C. Kesson, 26, hurt around foot and arm and treated for shock.

Frank Hamsborough, hurt in stomach.

Fred Williams, 51, hurt about the head and possible internal injuries.

Joseph Hayes, 35, multiple injuries and possible skull fracture.

Richard Gilday, 38, face lacerations and body bruises.

Talks With 2 of Men

Houston, whose firemen still were digging two hours after the collapse of the brick structure, said,

"I talked with two of the men who are trapped on the first floor but their voices are getting fainter by the moment. I believe there are four others under the wreckage in the basement."

The fire chief said all buildings in the area had been weakened by recurring Ohio river floods.

A search was being made for Wallie Teskin, stockkeeper, Ray Bell, and Al Rudd of Covington, Ky., after fellow workers said they were missing.

Houston instructed firemen to start tunneling through the elevator shaft after he was told that three men were riding in the elevator when the structure crashed.

Water Undermined Building

Before the building fell, escaping water had undermined a 40-foot section of Pearl street and flooded the basement of the building.

Several men were said to have been working on the flooded condition in the supply company basement at the time of the collapse.

The building was 50 feet wide and 85 feet long. All but a portion of the first floor caved in.

As a safety measure, occupants of several nearby buildings were evacuated.

Howard Benjamin, 44, foreman of equipment for the water works, said he just had arrived at the building in time to see it sway and then fall.

Adding that he was about 20 feet from the structure, he declared "I got away from there mighty quick. It sounded like an explosion and I was lucky to escape with a little dust in my lungs and on my clothes."

The boys, who have been held at the county detention home for nearly two weeks, were placed in the care and custody of their parents.

Three other youths, sentenced to Lancaster on charges of juvenile delinquency by Judge Gast, were taken to the Boys Industrial school by court officers today.

Legislature, with School Fight On Hands, Calls Up Levy Bills

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 11—Ohio Senators, with a new school fight on their hands, called up for passage today two expiring tax levies yielding some $30,000,000 annually while committees tackled the bingo bill and three other controversial measures.

House-approved bills to make the two-cents-a-pack cigaret tax permanent and extend the cent-a-gallon liquid fuel levy for two years were expected to receive quick approval because of administration backing. Both expire March 31

The Hamilton county delegation surprised the senate last night by introducing a bill to pay school teachers in lower salary brackets $14,500,000 annually for the next two years in bonuses retroactive to last Jan 1.

Only last week the senate education committee voted approval of the $85,000,000-a-year Daniels-Cramer school subsidy measure after five hearings.

30 Per Cent Boost

Sponsors of the teacher-bonus measure said it would continue the 1946 school program, which cost $58,874,000, and boost payments to instructors at the rate of 30 per cent for those getting under $2,000 a year on a graduated scale to 5 per cent for those getting less than $4,500 annually.

Sens. Kyle F. Brooks, Fred G. Reiners and Stanley G. Mellon, all Cincinnati Republicans, said their proposal was designed to offset a Daniels-Cramer bill requirement that teachers hold a bachelor degree and four-year provisional certificate to qualify for $2,000 minimum salaries

McKie said indications were that the bill would be referred for hearing to the education committee.

The senate also received a bill by Reiners to permit municipalities to acquire land and build swimming pools, and passed a measure by Sen. Allen N. Corlett (R-Cuyahoga) allowing cities to make levies for tree trimming.

What Happens To Your Income Tax Return Once It's Mailed

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, March 11 — Ever wonder what happens to your income tax return after you turn it in?

Does anyone ever really check it to see whether you're right, or wrong, or maybe cheating?

Every return is checked. But only three per cent are investigated in the sense that a government agent tries to take them apart.

James Marlow

Why are so few investigated? Manpower, or rather the lack of it. The internal revenue bureau has about 27,000 auditors and investigators.

So the three per cent of returns investigated last year represented only about 1,500,000 out of about 50,000,000 returns filed

This year the number will go up a bit because more agents have been added

The smaller your income, the less effort by the government to investigate it Why?

Too Small To Probe

Because the amount which might be recovered by the government is too small for the time and manpower it would take

(Those investigated in the lower income brackets are picked out because the agents have reason to believe something is wrong with them)

The higher the income is above $7,000, the tighter the investigation until, in the higher brackets, it's almost 100 per cent

The chances for cheating are greater in the higher brackets And there—in relation to the time and effort used—the chances of recovering money for the government are likewise greater

This doesn't mean the great majority of returns are just marked "okay" and tossed into the files as finished.

Check On Arithmetic

When you send your return to the local collector, his staff checks it to see that its arithmetic is correct

Then copies of every income tax return are sent to a central office in New York City. Why there?

Because in that place the government has collected all the information it has obtained on all taxpayers. For example

Reports from your boss on how much he paid you; reports from banks and corporations on interest and dividends paid you? And maybe a tip from someone to watch your return for fraud

So the copy of your return, sent to New York by your local collector, is checked against the other information in your file there

Sends Report

If anything is found wrong, the New York office reports back to your local collector who may do one of several things

He'll send you a refund if you've paid too much tax. If you haven't paid enough, he may notify you by mail to straighten it out

Or, he may tell you to come to his office. Or, he may send someone to check on your books

If you think the government agent who has checked on you is wrong, you can appeal to his boss

If you're turned down all along the line, you finally can appeal to the U S tax court

This court has 16 judges who travel around the country to hear appeals from people who think they're being taxed too much

For example If you live in New Orleans and have appealed to the court, you can wait there till one of the judges gets around to New Orleans

Most people settle their cases before they get to the tax court because you need a lawyer to represent you there

So the tax court judges almost entirely hear complaints involving large amounts of money.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D

Vitamin Deficiency

Practically the only vitamin deficiency diseases seen in children of the United States with any frequency are rickets, tetany and scurvy It is a pity, however, that even these occur, for the thing to remember about a vitamin deficiency disease is that nobody need ever have it in these days when vitamins are to be had in so many forms.

Rickets results from a lack of Vitamin D Vitamin D is formed in the skin when it is exposed to ultra-violet rays from the sunshine or from a lamp

Children who grow rapidly are more likely to develop rickets than those who grow slowly Other things which seem to influence the occurrence of this condition are the type of feeding, the skin color and prematurity. Thus, a breast-fed child is less likely to develop rickets than is the bottle-fed baby In this regard a blond child has the edge over a dark-skinned one, and a baby born at normal term is safer from rickets than is the premature infant.

The signs of rickets include softening of the skull bones, enlargement of the bones in the forehead, enlargements where the ribs join the breastbone, and enlargement of the wrists and ankles Later such things are bowlegs, knock-knees and malformations of the chest may occur

Unless rickets is severe it does not interfere greatly with the general health although there is evidence that rickets may lead to a lowered resistance to upper respiratory infections If there is any question as to diagnosis, an X-ray examination may be carried out Of course, the treatment consists of giving large amounts of Vitamin D as well as the proper diet

Tetany is a condition in which there is spasm of various muscles and often convulsions One form of this condition is due to a Vitamin D deficiency. The symptoms often may be brought on by an infection The diagnosis of tetany may be confirmed by determining the amount of calcium or lime in the blood serum In tetany the blood calcium is reduced The treatment consists of giving Vitamin D and calcium

Scurvy occurs because of a lack of Vitamin C The symptoms consist of irritability, loss of appetite, fever, swelling near the joints and bleeding of the gums This condition also is not difficult to diagnose and it may be prevented by giving the infant orange juice or tomato juice in liberal amounts. Vitamin C or ascorbic acid may also be employed

All these diseases have decreased sharply during the past 20 years and we can do away with them altogether by watchfulness and care to begin the proper foods or vitamins early enough

DAILY LENTEN MEDITATIONS

IN THE CHRIST OF THE CROSS WE GLORY

Today's Text: "Christ hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel" II Timothy 1 10.

* * *

CHRIST clarified this important issue. He cleared away the mist that had gathered around the problem of the resurrection and brought to light, "life and immortality" and placed them in their proper relation For immortality may mean endless misery The Gospel (Matt 25 41-46) clearly connects life with immortality only when men accept Christ as Saviour.

All men are immortal, but only those who confess the Lord Jesus Christ as their personal Saviour possess eternal life. "He that believeth hath eternal life" All men live forever They are immortal But to live with Christ man must be more than immortal, he must be born again from above. He is born in sin and death, he must pass from death to life. This process of passing from death and sin to life in Christ is called eternal life. Immortality is not enough God has stamped every soul with immortality You can not destroy it. But eternal life is the gift of God through Jesus to sinners.

Are we merely immortal or do we believe that Jesus Christ died and rose again for our sins? Such a belief and faith merits eternal life.

Maple Sirup Price Set As Festival Time Nears

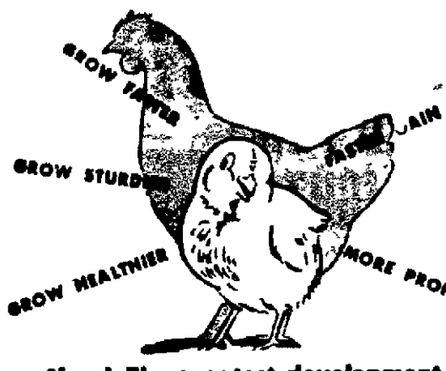

By The Associated Press

CHARDON, O., March 10 — A tentative season price of $5 a gallon for maple sirup has been set as Geauga county makes preparations for the biggest maple festival it has ever had

The traditional festival, which will be held here April 11, 12 and 13, is expected to draw 140,000 persons

With the season progressing slowly, operators in the county anticipate a good flow of sap enough, they hope, to meet the demand, which expected to be unusually heavy. It takes 4,000 gallons of sirup for the festival in a normal year.

Having had two successive years with practically no sirup, people are sirup starved, officials say. He reported orders are coming in from all parts of the country some as large of 500 gallons

Why freight rates are going up...

Since 1939, railroad employes have had three general pay raises totaling 52 6/10%, and the prices of fuel, materials and supplies have risen 61 6/10%.

But when the war ended in 1945, the railroads were still hauling freight at rates no higher, and in some cases lower, than when the war began.

Without increased revenues, railroads could not meet these costs and also provide improvements in equipment and facilities—improvements that are essential for the low-cost freight and passenger services which are necessary to America's high standard of living.

Under these circumstances—and almost a year after the last major wage increase—the Interstate Commerce Commission recently approved an average increase in freight rates of 17 6/10%.

Of all the price increases in America today, few have been so little and so late as that in the price of railroad transportation.

How important are healthy railroads to a prosperous country?

Only when the railroads are financially healthy can they provide the new equipment, improved road beds, and better terminal facilities needed for still better service to you.

The defense of the nation depends upon the continuance of the efficient transportation which served the nation so well in the last war.

The railroads are among the largest employers of labor. They buy over 100,000 different products. They pay big taxes—taxes which are spent not only for public schools, public health, and police and fire protection, but even for highways, airways, airports and inland waterways.

Railroads are America's lifeline—keeping goods flowing among the 48 states day and night in all weather.

They can continue to do this only if there is a reasonable balance between income and outgo. Like yourself, the railroads must make ends meet!

We are publishing this and other advertisements to talk with you at first hand about matters which are important to everybody.

Boyle Finds Owning Your Own Island No Snap

Associated Press Writer
By HAL BOYLE

NASSAU, Bahamas — Man's oldest dream — to own a quiet island of his own — is something of a nightmare to people who have islands to sell.

For the post-war escapists who yearn to "get away from it all" and build a little private sea-girt kingdom where they can live in a private world have no idea what responsibility that entails.

No one knows this better than real estate dealers and the crown lands officer of this British colony who get hundreds of letters from dreamy minded would-be island owners.

Hal Boyle

"There never has been so many people who wanted to escape," said one real estate dealer.

But most prospective purchasers hurriedly back away when they find that developing an island is a much more difficult task than buying a bungalow in the suburbs.

No Shortage of Islands

There is no shortage of islands for sale in this coral and blue archipelago in the Gulf stream off Florida. You can buy them from $2,000 to $50,000—yes, the price of islands has gone up, too. But buying an island is only the first step — and only a well-heeled determined man ought to put out his foot that far.

"Owning an island is a dream hard to accomplish," said Howell Rees of the Bahamas information bureau, "and most inquiries come to nothing when the prospective buyers find the problems they face.

"You've got the problems of building a home, arranging for transportation, and setting up water and power supplies and a sanitation system.

"A good boat is essential. But on an island you can't go down to a corner drugstore and order a malted milk and sandwich. You have to import most of your food."

Also Lonely Life

It is also a lonely life, unless you are willing to settle on a populated larger island $5 to $200 or more an acre, on which you can trade coconuts and grapefruit with fellow Robinson Crusoes.

But if you have some financial resources and are hardy, there are compensations. The swimming, fishing and sunsets are unexcelled — and the hurricane season last only a few months each year.

Best known American island dweller here is John T. McCutcheon, Chicago Tribune cartoonist, whose dream came true on "Treasure Island," where he has a winter home. But his island is only a few miles by motor boat from the social life at Nassau, if he wearies of his paradise.

Strings Attached To Sales

The British crown owns many Bahamian islands, but declines to sell them for real estate speculation. They are available only to serious colonizers and the title reverts to a purchaser only after he has completed specified developments. The crown would like the islands settled by people who will make homes there and till the soil. One inducement: There are no income taxes.

Another lure is the scant possibility of finding long-buried plunder left by bluebeard and other pirates who once made the Bahamas their rendezvous.

You probably will get to retain any loot you find provided you promptly report it to the proper official — the district coroner.

Such "treasure-troves" legally belong to the crown, but the crown has agreed in such cases to let the finder keep it or—if the crown wants to turn it over to a museum—to pay the finder the full market value.

He can then afford to move back to the city.

Program Presented By Pension Society

A program of music and talks was preented at a meeting of the Townsend Rally club Sunday afternoon in the Central Labor Union hall. T. F. Manhard, president, presided and the meeting opened with group singing of "America" and pledge of allegiance to the flag by the group and prayer by Mrs. Elizabeth Houser, chaplain.

Arthur Hershner read items of interest from "The Flash," and brief talks were iven by R. V. Roller, T. F. Manhart and Mr. Ulmer. Mrs. Dessie Sharp gave a reading and the choir sang "O, That Will Be Glory" and "Old Rugged Cross." A quartet composed of Mrs. Lillian Loper, Mrs. Rose Seiter, C. A. Ruth and W. E. Sergent, accompanied by Mrs. Loper, sang "A Beautiful Life" and "I Won't Have to Cross Jordan Alone." Mrs. Dorothy Beckel gave a talk on juvenile delinquency and Carroll W. Davidson, representing the Central Labor Union, gave a talk. A song, "Faith of Our Fathers," by Mrs. Dessie Sharp, a song "God Be With You," by the choir, and the Townsend pledge by the group, completed the program.

COLUMBUS MILK UP

KENTON MEN CAN'T ESCAPE BY DRIVING BACKWARD

Officer On Foot Nabs Pair in "Back Up" Flight.

Special to The Star

KENTON, March 11—Two Kenton men were sentenced and fined here Saturday night after a zigzag flight with their automobile in which they traveled two blocks with the car in reverse striking two parked cars before they were taken into custody by a patrolman on foot.

Ray Baum, 21, of Kenton pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated and was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 60 days in the county jail.

John Giberson, 20, also of Kenton entered a plea of guilty to resisting an officer and was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail.

Patrolman Shope who chased the two on foot while they backed around a corner and traveled down a steep hill in reverse had to finally enlist the aid of a taxi to catch the two.

GET RAIL APPOINTMENTS
By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 11—Appointments of Livingstone Goddard as secretary and J. J. Anzalone as treasurer of the newly-organized Federation for Railway Progress were announced last night by Chairman Robert R. Young. Goddard once served as assistant district attorney for New York county under Thomas E. Dewey. Anzalone is vice president and secretary of the Allegheny Corp. and assistant vice president of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad.

113,000 Red Cross Nurse Aids Still Serving in U. S.

This is one of a series of stories telling about some of the services of the Marion county chapter of the American Red Cross. The series is published to aid in Marion county's part in the annual fund campaign. Sixty-five per cent of the contribution will remain in Marion county to carry on the chapter's work.

There are more than 113,000 Red Cross nurse's aids still serving in army, veterans', and civilian hospitals, in public health agencies, clinics, and visiting nurse associations, in disaster emergencies, in psychiatric hospitals and on the docks to help care for the children of war brides arriving in a land strange and new to them.

In Marion county there is no veterans' hospital and only one civilian hospital where nurse's aids can give service. The corps was organized in the chapter in 1942 with Mrs. John A. Dodd as chairman. Six classes have been organized and instructed and 96 persons were certified as nurses aids.

Instruction consisted of a course, as standardized, of two units with a total of 80 hours. The first 35 hours were spent in classroom work and theory, and the remaining 35 hours in practical experience in the hospital under the supervision of registered nurses.

At the Marion City hospital, nurses' aids assist the graduate nurses in caring for the patient, sit with post-operative cases, assist in cleaning operating rooms, make beds, give baths, in fact, give general care to the patients.

Due to the return of registered nurses since the close of the war, the services of nurses' aids are not so necessary at the hospital, but they are on reserve and are ready to be of service when needed. During th past year 639 hours of volunteer service were given by aids at the Marion City hospital.

Prospect Postoffice Examination Is Set

An examination for the position of postmaster at Prospect was conducted Saturday at Prospect by Frank A. Bryant, secretary of the local civil service board. Four applicants took the test held in the Prospect High school building.

Mr. Bryant went to Prospect to conduct the examination at the request of the civil service commissioner in Washington.

Thomas H. Finefrock is the acting postmaster, succeeding Mrs. Clara Dix who resigned some time ago.

BAR PERMITS REPORT AIRED

Liquor Inquiry Turns To Study of Licenses Issued Above Quota.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 11—The special senate committee, preparing to resume its sweeping investigation of the liquor department late today, studied a partial report on 48 permits for night clubs, private clubs and bars issued in 1946-47 above legal quotas.

Frank J. Collopy, chief committee counsel, submitted the report at yesterday's hearing and said he expected to have the list completed this week. The licenses, mostly issued last year, were for 37 private clubs, six night clubs and five bars.

Liquor department spokesmen said after the hearing a number of the over-quota permit holders had been cited or had their licenses revoked as a result of a separate inquiry by Atty. Gen. Hugh S. Jenkins.

The senate committee also heard testimony from Miss Minnie Thornton, clerical chief in the liquor department's permit division, and received a pledge of cooperation from the state civil service commission.

The commission by letter asked the committee to reconsider its quest for questions given applicants for liquor inspector jobs on grounds that the examinations should not be made public.

Miss Thornton, who has been with the permit section 12 years, explained how permit applications were handled in her office, which she described as too small, too dirty and too hot in the summertime.

Collopy by his line of questioning indicated he sought to learn whether political pressure was involved in handling of permit applications.

"During the last two years you were instructed to let applications lie until you got word about them from your superiors?" Collopy asked.

"Yes," Miss Thornton replied, "we did what we were told."

She added that liquor permits exceeding legal quotas were renewed annually the same as other permits upon proper application.

Sen. Roscoe R. Walcutt, investigating committee chairman, called for a resumption of hearings at 2:30 p. m.

Women's Society Meets At Prospect St. Church

Devotions conducted by Mrs. William Wanner opened a meeting of the W.S.C.S. of Prospect Street Methodist church Thursday afternoon at the church. Mrs. Harry Seiler, vice president, was in charge in the absence of the president. It was decided to postpone the next meeting one week to April 10 as it comes during Holy Week.

For the program in charge of Mrs. Harry Wilhelm, Mrs. John Schultz presented the topic, "A Child and His Family," Mrs. Clarence Rutherford gave a vocal solo, accompanied by Mrs. Noah Weaver, and Mrs. John Schott gave a reading, "St. Patrick." Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. John Schweinfurth, Mrs. Carl Midlam, Mrs. Earl Midlam and Mrs. Ruby Emptage.

Bowling Green Grange To Confer Two Degrees

Final plans were made to confer the first degree at Bowling Green Wednesday, March 12, at a meeting of Mt. Olive Grange Friday night. Seven candidates were accepted into the Grange and will take the work at that time.

A contribution of $5 was made to the Red Cross and a rummage sale for the near future was planned. During the social hour, Mr. and Mrs. Purl Knachel, who celebrated their 27th wedding anniversary March 7, and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Porter, who will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary March 21, were honored. The group sang, "My Father and Mother Were Irish," and a newspaper of Green Camp events was read by Mrs. Fred Schaber. A spelling contest was held and the side captained by Ola Uncapher won. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Zell Owens, Mrs. Hazel Uncapher and Mrs. Schaber.

SYCAMORE QUOTA TOPPED

UPPER SANDUSKY—The first to report in Wyandot county, Sycamore, went over the top in the Red Cross drive. The quota for the town was $155 and the amount reported to the county chairman was $471.00. This was raised without appeals to the organizations of the community according to the chairman, Mrs. Mary Mick.

U.S. ATOMIC CONTROL PLAN BACK AT START

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 11—The main issues in the American plan for world atomic control were back today where they started nine months ago, with Russia and the United States still locked in disagreement.

The problem was returned to the United Nations atomic energy commission last night by the security council, which asked the commission to continue searching all phases of the question and, "in due course," begin drafting "ultimate proposals."

These proposals would have to bridge the vital areas of disagreement between the two great powers which became apparent almost as soon as Bernard M. Baruch laid the American no-veto plan before the commission last June 14.

The atomic problem was referred back to the commission when, with a rare display of unanimity unmarred even by abstentions, the council decided that there had been no agreement between Russia and the majority-backed United States on how to universalize atomic energy without menacing peace.

Foremen Left Up To Solons

Supreme Court Hints Congress Must Change Laws To Exclude Unions.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11—The supreme court left a broad hint with congress today that if it wants foremen excluded from unions it will have to write a new law on the subject.

A 5 to 4 decision by the tribunal presented these choices to the lawmakers on the controversy over unionization of the men who boss the nation's plants, mills and mines:

1. To write a provision in the Wagner labor relations act relieving employers of the obligation to bargain with a union of their supervisors. This, in effect, would cancel out yesterday's supreme court decision.

2. To write a provision specifically extending collective bargaining protection to unions of supervisors which are not affiliated with rank and file organizations. This would spell out by law the enterpretation of the present statute which the court handed down.

3. To grant or withhold those privileges where the bosses are members of the same union as production workers. This point has not yet been passed on by the supreme court, and probably won't be before next October.

A case involving John L. Lewis' mine foremen's union is headed toward the tribunal but is still before lower courts.

Significantly, the court's decision yesterday involved supervisory employes who were not in the same union as the rank and file workers. It concerned the Packard Motor Car Company of Detroit and the Foremen's Association of America, an independent union for supervisory workers only.

The high court gave no inkling how it would have ruled if the foremen had belonged to the same union as the workers they supervised. The sixth circuit court of appeals in Cincinnati, which passed on the case first, said it might have seen the issue in a different light if the union were tied in with the production workers.

The Lewis case would put that issue squarely before the tribunal.

It admittedly is a test case to determine how the supreme court will interpret the Wagner act on that point. The Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation is fighting recognition of the Lewis union despite rulings by the national labor relations board and a contract Lewis negotiated with the government covering J. and L. supervisors in four Pennsylvania mines.

But that case, now pending in the third circuit court of appeals in Philadelphia, can hardly reach the supreme court and be cleared before the summer recess in May or June.

Hence congress has an opportunity to pass on the issue first.

Green Camp Teacher Hired
GREEN CAMP — Melvin C. Probst, formerly of Youngstown and Galion, was employed as a teacher in the Green Camp High school for the remainder of 1946-47 school year at a board meeting last Tuesday. The resignation of Mrs. Geraldine Edsall, high school teacher, was accepted. The board granted Owen Meddles of Marion, Boy Scout official, permission to use the school building Monday, March 17, to hold a rally in the interest of the local Scout troop. The clerk reported the five per cent of annual salary bonus to employes in the total amount of $917.70 had been paid Feb. 28.

All Propositions Are Debatable

IT IS DIFFICULT to believe the meeting of foreign ministers in Moscow has anything to do with life in Podunk, U.S.A. But it does.

Secretary of State Marshall and Foreign Ministers Bevin, Bidault und Molotov are going to decide in a general way the fate of two diametrically-opposed propositions

One is to proceed with the ruination of Germany along the lines now being followed; to keep the reich divided among its mutually mistrustful conquerors

The other is to develop peace terms for Germany and Austria which would rehabilitate them as the economic heart of Europe, giving them a chance to regain the power and prestige they lost in defeat.

The latter would seem to be the humanitarian choice It is based on the same impulses of Christian charity which caused former President Hoover a few days ago to recommend that the United States should advance huge sums of money to feed the Germans who are starving

It is the choice favored instinctively by Americans, who are equipped neither by instinct nor experience to abuse a fallen enemy. But the proposition to rehabilitate Germany is debatable.

The obvious fact is that if Germany again became a European power it would be involved in the world contest for prestige Twice in this century a strong Germany has erupted in a deadly explosion of power politics. Distressing as it is to think of the Germans in a helpless, hopeless condition, it isn't half so distressing as it has been to think of them trying to conquer the world. If there can be such a thing as an habitual war criminal among nations, Germany has earned that distinction.

Those who are willing to risk this claim that the alternative is to drive Germany and its potential warmaking power into the outstretched arms of the Soviet Union. They believe that Germany, if rehabilitated, would fall into the camp of the democracies. It rushed pell-mell into the camp of the dictatorships after a distressing experiment in democracy which Germans neither understood nor cared for. It may be that the consequence of keeping Germany divided and at the mercy of its mistrustful conquerors would be to strengthen Communism. So the proposition to destroy Germany is debatable, too. For one thing, it may be impossible for an army of occupation to destroy a nation without destroying itself, an ironic consequence of nihilism which some thoughtful observers claim to have observed among United States troops.

Whatever happens in Moscow is as close to Podunk, U.S.A., as the children who would be involved in World War III if it were to be started by the wrong kind of a peace treaty for Germany.

That Would Not Be Dandy

FIORELLO LaGUARDIA, who did not come forward to explain that the LaGuardia-Norris Act was not intended to deprive the sovereign power of the injunction authority in labor disputes, now has come forward with a thought on union organization.

Merge all labor organizations into one big union, he advises congress. Then divide the one big union into departments for transportation, mining professional and entertainment workers, and all other skills and trades. That, he suggests, would be dandy.

LaGuardia does not add that one big union would have one big president and one big group of advisers who thereupon could make one big decision to tie up the whole country in one big strike—and that would not be so dandy.

As long as the United States continues to have certain basic convictions about the undesirability of monopoly, the labor unions are powerful enough the way they are now

Good Subsidies and Bad

SENATOR BYRD'S committee on economy figures that the federal government has distributed $49,000,000,000 in public subsidies and grants-in-aid in the last 12 years. That's about $800 for every wage earner in the nation.

Subsidy payments have declined considerably in recent years, but the committee hopes to find additional ways of cutting them. Federal payments to states will be given special scrutiny, for many of the states have had lush pickings during the war years while the federal government has gone into debt as never before.

Federal subsidies and grants-in-aid have accomplished much good—wildlife restoration, reforestation, welfare projects, highway improvement and housing developments. But these payments also have disrupted the relationship between consumers and producers of goods by delaying correction of the basic maladjustments which originally caused the need for the subsidies. That should be taken into consideration in any future subsidy program: Is the money serving a corrective purpose or is it just a handful of sand on the levee in the flood season?

Many of Mexico City's buildings are constructed on the ruins of the Aztec city destroyed when it was conquered by the Spaniards.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Plain People Develop New U. S. Intelligentsia.

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 11—What might be called a new intelligentsia is loosely springing up around the country. The smart boys have made such a failure of planning the past few years, they have not been able to offer anything except the same old arguments in the same old words. They are not trying to think in fresh exploratory fields for solutions to the fresh problems of the world, but are wallowing in the old groves of words such as "Fascist" (a party now extinct or without power), 'Communist" (a word without real meaning because there is little Communism in Russia), "Tories" (a nearly ancient term from Britain used by Bill Green) and so on.

Here at a luncheon were an artist, a real estate dealer, a construction engineer, an army officer, a newspaper man, an advocate of psychic phenomena and some other plain men who long since gave up the groovists and started out to do some thinking for themselves. A composite resume of their questions and answers on current news ran about like this

Q—Is Russianism likely to conquer the United States (not to use the word Communism)?

A—The business man said it would after the first year of our next depression He said unfortunately Russianism is the only formidable opposition movement to Christian society today, and at the first sign of failure of Christian society to provide what the people want, it would come over this country. The others did not agree, or were doubtful The newspaperman said Russianism would never succeed in this country but that if we came to another depression, some sort of Christian dictatorship or totalitarianism might spring up to meet the demands of the people for retention of their ideals It would be like Russianism only by depriving the people of individual liberty, as exhibited in freedom of speech, press and religion.

Q—What is Russianism which is masquerading as Communism?

A—It has no affirmative program. It is purely an antagonistic movement. It exists in an inefficient way solely by opposing everything rather than by its own accomplishments It is not advocated because it has made a better airplane, or better automobile. In accomplishment it has proved itself grossly inferior to capitalism. It is therefore a negative movement actually without a doctrine. Indeed it preaches a lack of idealism to accomplish purely revolutionary ends.

Q—What would the U S be like the day after Russianism started?

A—In the first place it will never start, and in the second, who can say what a negative movement would do when pressed with the necessity for affirmative action. It simply has no program

Q—Has capitalism a chance of survival under this staggering war debt?

A—Capitalism has given human beings the greatest improvement in all the history of the world By inspiring individual initiative, it has provided the average man with electric lights, automobiles, radios, modern plumbing—things which are greater ordinary benefits of life than the non-capitalistic nations have achieved, particularly Russia Even in a depression, our capitalistic standard of life would be so much higher than any other, the people will never abandon it—the one system which has made them great solely by inspiring individual initiative. Unless the capitalistic reward for effort is maintained, human progress will stop.

Q—What of the federal debt and its $5 billions annual interest charge?

A—The interest charge is not really $5 billions This is merely the budget figure It does not include the taxes the government collects on its bond interest by subjecting the interest payments to taxation, or the interest it pays itself on the bonds it holds The net annual charge truly may be only half of $5 billions In any event, all you need to finance and retire this debt is good business Good business pays the taxes If this country ever gets to a point where it cannot retire its debt, or meet its interest payments, it can resume the downward path of finance in the Roosevelt administration which allowed government to issue money against its own bonds.

Q—Then Russianism or Communism has not much chance?

A—It has a chance only to conquer people who do not know it It has nothing superior to offer. No alive person would fall for it. The world will find other ways It hopes to conquer us in our first failure, but it is more likely to blow up itself in its own next depression and failure to meet needs of its people It is always subject to counter revolution despite its despotic efforts to safeguard itself

Discussion broke up on that note.

I could not help believing when I walked away from this gathering that I had come in contact with a new intelligentsia. I had seen similar evidence of it elsewhere around the country. The smart people these days are the people who have made a success of themselves and their lives in the way they have chosen. Unfettered by the common political phobias of the day, plain people are seeking and finding genuine intelligence

Just a Minute

The Sun Never Sets On American Generosity

Convinced that the British empire is breaking up, Georgia's Senator Russell suggests that statehood be accorded England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales

That whirring noise?? Oh, that's George the Third spinning in his grave.

While immediate British reaction was naturally unfavorable, on second thought it becomes apparent that John Bull would get a better deal than some he has given .... At least, there'd be representation along with his taxation

Of course, the technicalities of the thing are yet to be gone into It may prove to be a clear-cut violation of the anti-trust laws.

However the senator's proposal is undeniably attracting some support in this country There are many aspects of the merger to recommend it to American citizens, not the least of them being the prospect of duty-free Scotch

Still, a not inconsiderable portion of our population is convinced that the U S has enough problems of its own .... without adopting any.

Consequences of Lewis Case

By RAYMOND MOLEY

JOHN L. LEWIS sought labor's redemption through politics and government. The first swigs at the cup were tonic, even intoxicating. But the cup pressed to his lips by what he thought was a friendly court pours out bitter dregs

Now Mr. Lewis should know that the state is a dangerous partner

The lesson revealed by the long decision of the supreme court is no vindication of free enterprise It is simply that no power is superior to that of government. No alliances no campaign contributions, no protective legislation can enable a single interest to defy the government For successful defiance is revolution and even the New Deal proposed no revolution

This is why we find, perhaps to our surprise, New Deal judges like Black, Frankfurter, Reed, Jackson and Douglas voting with the majority. They were appointed because they subscribed to the principles in which President Roosevelt believed. Those principles were based on the concept of strong government. All five justices labored, before their appointment, to build up strong governmental agencies and powers. Progress, they believed, lay in more state power. Their consistency in the Lewis case is perfect.

And Lewis, who is a student of history, should have anticipated this decision If his books failed to reveal the lesson, he could have learned it from Gompers. But like many headstrong men, he felt that he was superior to law, even the laws of history.

Messrs Norris and LaGuardia wrote their anti-injunction law when a Republican was in the White House. That law was framed in light of a Republican administration and a bench full of Republican judges. Hence, if they thought of it at all, they probably were willing to deny even government the right to an injunction in a labor dispute.

The five justices framed their judgment in the light of an administration of which four were a part and the fifth an unofficial adviser Moreover, an overwhelming majority of federal judges were appointed by Roosevelt. The power of injunction, which they might have denied in 1932, they now think may be safely granted to the friendly courts of a friendly government. Lewis now appears as a rebel against the regime that these justices helped to create

Thus the supreme court, as Mr. Dooley said, follows the election returns In this case, it follows not only the election last fall, which registered a demand that something be done about labor, but the four elections of Roosevelt which sustained the idea of an all-powerful government.

The decision makes much easier the course of congress in drafting labor legislation Certainly, doubts as to the application of the Norris-La Guardia Act to government should be specifically removed. Government must have power to enforce its decisions through the courts.

The court has made unmistakably clear that government must provide protection for the public against strikes which are a threat to "orderly constitutional government, and to the economic and social welfare of the nation." Such protection cannot permanently be achieved by permitting government to seize vital industries and to continue their operation. Essential protection must be given to vital industries through a system of enforced arbitration. And such industries should be specifically named by Congress.

The court merely echoed the decision of the public at the polls in saying that strikes in certain industries cannot be tolerated Congress must act soon, for the railroad unions will no doubt present a Lewis-like crisis before many weeks have passed.

U. S.—Turkish Alliance Urged

By WALTER LIPPMANN

EVERY one recognizes that what is called the Greek crisis is only a first installment of a very much greater challenge, arising from the fact that the British empire is no longer able to do what it has done for more than a century—that is to block expansion of the Russian empire into the Mediterranean, the Middle East, and into the Persian Gulf and the Indian Ocean.

The United States is compelled to act because the collapse of Greece, Turkey and Iran would precipitate unmanageable turmoil and disorder, conflict and violence in Europe and in Asia.

If there is ever to be a negotiated and peaceable settlement with the Soviet Union, a balance of power at the line of its present sphere of influence must be maintained This is the irreducible minimum condition under which a negotiated settlement is conceivable

The crucial question is how, and not whether, the United States can most wisely and effectively accept this new and heavy responsibility in the Middle East For we are not now a Middle Eastern power. That is to say we have no foothold in that region from which American power can be exerted The Russians do have They are in the Balkans, in the Caucasus, and they control the Black Sea. The British have had, and still have though precariously, a foothold in Greece, Cyrus, Egypt Palestine, Transjordan, Iraq, at Malta, Suez, Aden and the Persian Gulf

The United States, though it has no foothold of its own in the whole region, is now challenged to take the primary responsibility as against the Soviet Union in preserving the balance of power and of maintaining law and order.

Way for U. S.

The apparent way for the United States to become one of the two leading powers of the British East is to reinforce the British in some of their positions and gradually to replace them in other positions.

The most important question that we have to examine is whether this is the wisest, whether it is feasible, whether it is the only way, the United States can assume the new responsibility of becoming a principal Middle Eastern power

Perhaps it is It is the easiest policy to offer the American people, in that it can be presented bit by bit as a request for a little money, a little diplomatic and technical assistance, without facing up to its larger implications But I am not sure but that the bolder course, which is to grasp the nettle firmly at the outset, would not be the wisest.

Turkey is the key country in the Middle East. It is subject to such pressure from the Soviet Union that it is compelled to keep a large army mobilized. It cannot support that army much longer. Yet until there has been a settlement of the Soviet demands at the Dardanelles and on the eastern borderland, Turkey must maintain sufficient military power

The issue for us is whether financial aid alone is the best remedy for this condition To be sure we shall have to give financial aid But if with the financial aid we offered the Turkish government a military guaranty, consistent with Article 51 of the charter, we should, I believe, have grasped the nettle

With our guaranty the Turkish government could afford to demobolize a considerable part of its army The financial assistance we can give would then not need to be used up on unproductive military expenditure but could in part be applied to strengthening the economic life of Turkey.

The advantages of such a move on our part are many It would make clear by the most emphatic of all diplomatic actions that the United States is now a primary and not a secondary, a principal not an auxiliary, a direct not an indirect, power in the Middle East. The prestige of such a move would do the work of many Turkish divisions and of many American dollars.

Committed To Aid Turkey

It cannot be argued, I believe, that such an offer on our part would increase our military commitments or would be contrary to the letter and spirit of the charter of the United Nations For if Turkey is attacked, we are already committed to go to her defense. The value of making a specific guaranty now is that it is likely to prevent the Soviet government from doing anything which looks safe enough when begun, but could easily be irreparable. To know from the outset that they are dealing not with a weakened Turkey but with the United States is the more likely way to make the men in the Kremlin cautious

On the other hand, if the worst happened, an alliance with Turkey would afford us a strategic foothold, incomparably better than any other, from which to exert power in the Middle East. The most important defensive position is also the most important offensive position That is why, if we are serious about the Middle East, our best course, it seems to me, is to act directly at the center in Turkey rather than indirectly on the weak periphery where the British have in the course of the past generation receded.

The fate of the Middle East cannot be decided at the points where Great Britain is now involved—that is to say in the Arab countries, in Iran, and in Greece. Those are the rear areas of the Middle East which can be defended now, as they have been governed through the greater part of history, only from Turkey, that principal stronghold which faces the west on the Mediterranean coast and Russia on the Black Sea.

To do all that is necessary to make Turkey secure is, therefore, so it seems to me, the effective way to meet the challenge which confronts us. It will be better than doing a lot, but not enough, in many other places.

Of all the parties in the race
No one was hotter for first place
Than that of worthy Skipper Reece,
Commander of all G.O.P.'s.

He was adored by all his men,
(Tho cnecked by him on where they'd been)
And furthermore he meant to know
Just where his men were set to go.

If they showed tendencies to stray
He'd sing to them of good team-play
"The thing," he said, "we sometimes miss
Is one—and just one—quarterback."

Concord he urged on one and all
With 'Keep your eye upon the ball!"
He'd tell them how to run and then
Warn "Not in ALL directions, men!"

Did they seem both to zig and zag
He'd say "This one is in the bag,
Provided that you realize
You're on a team, not free lance guys"

When legislators seemed to act
Without direction plan or tact
And across no gains on runs quite wide
He'd warn "The point is, don't collide"

"You're going places, and for fair
But oftentimes I wonder where.

"By any reasonable plan
You can keep Harry on the pan
But not, my men, if you persist
In playing football in a mist'

As if you thought they'd do no harm
You must show me that winning spark

Bubble Gum

By TRUMAN TWILL

At this time if the ladies and children in the first few rows will find places in the rear of the auditorium, Professor Twill will demonstrate bubble gum

But first a brief explanation

Bubble gum is of recent origin and is not the substance used by children of the period circa World War I. This mistake has brought hardship and humiliation on many oldsters who did not realize the bubble gum was loaded. It has caused the amputation of several mustaches and one full beard, also numerous mud packs and hurry up trips to the dentist for the repair of dentures dislodged and bitten out of shape

No one should monkey with bubble gum unless he knows what he is doing It is as tricky as fulminate of mercury Besides, being a semi-precious commodity, like automobiles, it properly belongs in the hands of only the few who urgently need it, such as children from age 1 up through 16 Older persons should not take bubble gum out of the mouths of babes

It is important that the user remember at all times that he is using the article at his own risk and the manufacturer will not be responsible for repercussions. While bubble gum is not necessarily fatal, it can be painful if it explodes in the eyes, nose and ears Makers of electric shavers take a dim view of what happens when it gets lodged in the cutting heads of their ingenious devices and will not make free repairs.

It is useful to remember that bubble gum when chilled in cold water hardens to the consistency of plaster, but softens to the consistency of glue at body temperature In the event a bubble bursts in a way that covers the chewer's face with a film, the face may be chilled or heated: in either event the gum will come off

The only way to remove it is with a dull knife, a handful of steel wool and a can of vegetable shortening First, apply the shortening Then roughen the surface of the bubble-gum film with the steel wool. Finally, scrape with knife until the gum forms into a soft ball If a neater ball is desired, rub ice over the face after applying shortening.

Anyone who fools with bubble gum when needing a shave is asking for trouble and will get same We repeat—anyone who fools with bubble gum when needing a shave is asking for trouble. That word is spelled: T-R-O-U-B-L-E

And now if the ladies and children in the first few rows will find places in the rear of the auditorium, Professor Twill will demonstrate the technique of chewing bubble gum. First, put on a hat. Then moisten the lips. Get gum in position and blow. Whoeeee! Gunning Sight again.

RANGE OF FOREIGN RELIEF DEBATED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11—The question of whether congress wants a long or short range foreign relief program was raised today by a report from Herbert Hoover urging that $155,000,000 be spent in Austria during the next 15 months.

The former president said relief in Austria must continue at least until July 1, 1948, and "I have felt it better to face the fact now" rather than propose "renewed appropriations later."

But Rep. Bloom (D-NY), top Democrat of the house foreign relations committee told a reporter he believes the group will prefer to take a new look at foreign relief later "and make a supplemental appropriation then if necessary."

Hoover explained in his report to President Truman his proposal would provide Austria with less aid than a United Nation program contemplates but said he has in mind "world supplies and the drains upon the American taxpayer."

The United Nations estimates provide more food than Hoover's, he said and include some help for industrial reconstruction.

The United Nations proposal would involve spending $148,000,000 in Austria for the rest of 1947 and if extended for 15 months, would cost $248,000,000, or $93,000,000 more than Hoover recommended.

The UN outlay would come from a fund of $610,000,000 of which the United States has been asked to contribute $350,000,000.

Hoover said the program he recommended would provide "a food level that, while austere, is, I believe, sufficient to maintain health and vigor."

Crawford Co. Grange Marks Anniversary

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, March 11—Marking the diamond jubilee of the Ohio Grange, which this year observes its 75th anniversary, 250 Crawford county Grangers joined in a dinner meeting in Whetstone school Friday night.

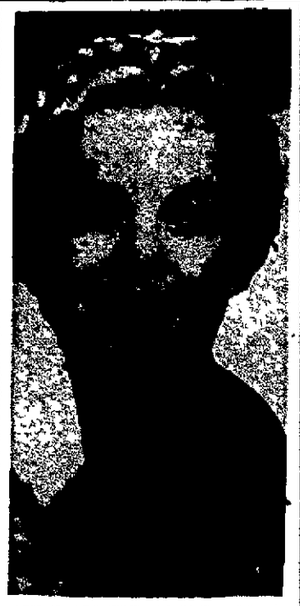

Principal address was made by Chester B. Alspach, master of Franklin county's Pomona Grange and former agricultural missionary to China. The speaker touched upon the atomic age and cited the necessity for peace among people.

A program of music and stunts was presented after which the group adjourned to the second floor gymnasium for square dancing.

LaRue Man Bound Over To Grand Jury Here

Carl Phillippi, 23, of LaRue was bound over to the Marion county grand jury under $500 bond when he pleaded guilty in municipal court Saturday to charges of issuing a check with insufficient funds. The check was for $5 and was issued to C. M. Miller of Marion who filed the charges. Phillippi is in county jail for failure to provide bond.

JUNE HAVER WEDS. Movie Actress June Haver and her childhood sweetheart, James Zito, will have their Las Vegas civil marriage blessed on St. Patrick's day in Beverly Hills, Cal. The couple met seven years ago at her former home in Rock Island, Ill., when she was 13 years old and he, at 16, was playing with dance band. Miss Haver will be remembered by residents of Marion and vicinity as one of the stars of the motion picture "Home in Indiana" which included scenes filmed the Marion county fairgrounds. Miss Haver was here approximately 10 days. This was her first major movie role.

U. S. Cities Called "As Obsolete as 1910 Auto"

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 11—Dr. Luther Gulick, president of the institute of public administration, told 26 newspapermen here for a three-week seminar on municipal affairs that the average American city is 'as obsolete as a 1910 automobile."

Buildings, streets, utilities and transit systems were among the elements listed as obsolete by Dr. Fulick. He said the central political problem in American cities was caused by the "lazy, preoccupied, irresponsible, selfish and uneducated American citizen" who does not contribute to government but is ready to criticize it.

The seminar, sponsored by the American Press Institute at Columbia university, opened yesterday. Louis L. Clifford, city editor of the Cleveland Press, presided.

University Senior, 15, Makes Phi Beta Kappa

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, March 11—Darwin Turner, 15-year-old Negro senior, has qualified for membership in the University of Cincinnati chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity, Dr. Harry R. Muegel, chapter president, announced today.

Dr. Muegel, who is assistant professor of botany in the college of liberal arts, said he believed Turner was the youngest electee in the history of the university chapter. Twenty-six other liberal arts students, including seven World War II veterans, were elected.

Turner was only 13 years old when he entered the university in the fall of 1944 to major in English.

GERMANS PASS PROPERTY LAW

Nazi Victims To Get Confiscated Belongings Back.

By The Associated Press

STUTTGART, March 11 — Thousands of Nazi victims whose property in U. S. occupied Germany was confiscated during the Hitler regime soon will get it back under a far-reaching pro-back under a far-reaching German law enacted here today.

Taking a full year to draft, the law was approved by the council of German states of the American zone.

Hundreds of refugees who fled Hitler Germany to escape racial, religious and political terrorism—as well as countless hungry Germans who now see strangers running their businesses—will benefit.

Heavy Sentences Provided

Heavy prison sentences will be meted out under the law to Germans failing to report possession of property that was not theirs before the Nazi regime.

The restitution law gives the chance of a new start in life only to persons whose former property existed in what is now the American zone of Germany. But the heads of the four U. S. zone states are expected to make an appeal shortly to France, Britain and Russia to make the law effective throughout the former Third Reich.

Favored in principle by all German political parties in the U. S. zone as a chance for a democratic Germany to right Nazi wrongs, the draft of the law long has been tossed back and forth between the German council of states, U. S. military government and the state department in Washington.

Makes Reprisal Hard

With possible minor revisions before it is put into effect following final American approval, the law puts the onus of restitutions upon the present or former possessors of confiscated property. Additionally it makes it hard for Germans who knew the property was seized to cause injury to groups which "were to be excluded from the economic and cultural life of Germany or the Nazi party."

Under the law, all persons "wrongfully deprived" of their property between Jan. 30, 1933, and V-E day will get it back—or —an adequate substitute."

Escaped Convict To Be Returned To Ohio Penitentiary

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 11—Officials of the London prison farm said today that Melvin Shane, who as George Mason of Cleveland escaped from the farm 12 years ago and made good as a Michigan businessman, probably would be returned to the farm shortly and then be transferred to Ohio penitentiary.

Extradition of the middle-aged operator of a war plant in Detroit was authorized yesterday by Gov. Kim Sigler of Michigan. More than 100 prominent Detroit citizens urged clemency for the fugitive and Gov. Sigler said he would recommend to Ohio authorities that they "take fully in account" the evidence that Shane had rehabilitated himself in Michigan.

Under the name of Mason, Shane was received from Cleveland June 14, 1932, on a one-to-20-year sentence for illegal possession of explosives and burglary tools. He escaped Aug. 23, 1935, after slugging guard Henry Coleman with an iron pipe. At that time he was not due for a parole hearing for 22 months.

Under the normal policy of the pardon and parole commission he would have to serve these 22 months and an additional two years penalty for escaping.

Contest awards went to Mrs. Graff, Mrs. Nora Berry, Mrs. Leonard, Mrs. Mayse, Mrs. Grace Whittington, Mrs. Mary Rothenhausler, and Mrs. Betty Whittington. Special awards were won by Mrs. Betty Whittington and Mrs. Whetro, Mrs. Rothenhausler was presented the mystery award, and Mrs. Berry won another prize. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Alberta Brothers on Thompson street.

Mrs. H. J. Mautz, Central district junior club councilor, Miss Anna Pauling, Miss Barbara McIntire of the Junior Lecture-Recital club, and Robert Dillinger of Marion were guests at a meeting of the Richwood music club recently at the home of Mrs. Robert Lewis in Richwood. Mrs. Mautz gave a talk on Camp Interlocken music camp for High school students and also on the Biennial convention of Music clubs to be held the week of April 20 in Detroit. Miss Pauling, accompanied by Mr. Dillinger, sang a group of numbers and Miss McIntire entertained with two piano selections. Completing the program were piano groups by Mrs. Winters and Mr. Dillinger.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Russell of 405 South Vine street entertained with a family dinner Friday evening in honor of the birthday anniversary of E. H. Huggins, father of Mrs. Russell. Present with Mr. and Mrs. Huggins were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lauer of Prospect, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Neidhart and children, Joan and Mimmie the host and hostess and daughter, June Marie. The table was decorated with a birthday cake and appointments were in a St. Patrick's day theme.

A contribution was made to the American Red Cross when Mrs. W. A. Burrell of Van Buren, O., entertained the Arbor Vitae club Friday afternoon at Ringer's Inn. For the program, Mrs. Margaret Zachman played two Irish songs and several instrumental numbers, Mrs. W. E. Fetter gave a reading, "Sweet Rosie O'Grady," Mrs. Matilda Sinning read an article on "Race and Religion," and an account on a grain of rice was given by Mrs. A. G. Uncapher. Mrs. Levi Hite was a guest.

An Irish theme was featured when the Carpe Diem club met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. P. G. Shoots on Hane avenue. A donation was voted for the Red Cross. Devotions were by Mrs. A. J. Loudenslager, and roll call was answered with Irish jokes. A program was conducted by Mrs. E. A. Williams and included a song by the group; poem, Mrs. G. E. Herr; piano solo, Mrs. Charles Brady; Irish reading, Mrs. Paul Lill; and contest in charge of Mrs. Rudolph Risch won by Mrs. Loudenslager. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Donald Tower on Merchant avenue.

WHICH IS THE QUEEN? Mrs. Burr Carpenter (left) of Zenith, Washington, is getting used to having people stop her on the street and say—"Why, you look just like the Queen of England!" Mrs. Carpenter thinks maybe it's the hat. She's never seen the Royal Family, but hopes to some day. She's planning a trip to Canada this spring—which should provide excitement for Canadians.

Galion Health Board Holds Special Session

Special to The Star

GALION, March 11—Because of a misunderstanding of motions before the Galion board of health last Wednesday afternoon when it was reported the salary of the sanitary officer had been set at $75, it was necessary for the board to hold a special meeting Friday morning at which time a check back on the minutes established the approved salary at $50 a month. The sanitary officer's salary had to be specially set because action of city council last week had abolished his other position of plumbing inspector of the city.

Women Attend Home Demonstration Session

The annual achievement day for women in Marion city and county and other adjoining counties was to get underway this morning at the First Evangelical and Reformed church, and continue throughout the day. The meeting climaxes women's home demonstration meetings held in various communities under the direction of Miss Mary Faye McMillan, county home demonstration agent, during the last year.

Thursday, a demonstration on quick breads will be held at the Morral school, beginning at 1:30. Miss McMillan, will be in charge and the women of the Morral community are invited to attend.

Couple Exchange Vows In Bucyrus Church

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, March 11—Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Eugene Beebe whose marriage took place Friday afternoon in St. Paul's Lutheran church will establish temporary residence here. The bride is the former Phoebe Marie Edberg, daughter of Mrs. Garda Edberg of Minneapolis, Minn. and Mr. Beebe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Beebe.

The ceremony was witnessed only by members of the immediate families.

The bride served for 23 months as an air WAC and previously was a model in Minneapolis. Mr. Beebe, a Bucyrus High school graduate, spent three and a half years in the Army air force.

Couple Honored On 50th Anniversary

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hood of 615 Lee street was celebrated Sunday with a family dinner at noon and open house in the afternoon. The couple received approximately 75 guests.

Forty persons were present for the dinner with the celebrants, including the seven children and their families. The table, from which the dinner was served cafeteria style, was centered with a large wedding cake decorated in gold, and white candles in crystal holders.

For the celebration, Mrs. Hood wore a navy blue flowered dress trimmed in white. At the reception, cake with the figure "50" in gold on the top and ice cream were served with the five daughters presiding. Mr. and Mrs. Hood received a large number of cards, flowers and gifts in keeping with the occasion. Music during the afternoon was provided by Peter Chifo, Stephen Felix and Billy Bowman, all of Marion, who presented Hawaiian guitar selections.

The children, who are Mrs. Eva Brookover, Mrs. Bertha Cole, Mrs. Garnet Aldridge, Mrs. Elnora Benson, Walter and Harold Hood, all of Marion, and Mrs. Clara Brothers of Toledo, and eleven grandchildren and three great grandchildren, were present to help celebrate the occasion. One great grandchild was unable to attend.

Other guests were from Delaware, Toledo and surrounding communities.

Mt. Victory Over Top In Red Cross Drive

Special to The Star

KENTON, March 11—The kick-off meeting of the Hardin county Red Cross chapter started off on an optimistic note in its drive for a goal of $3,600 here Friday night. Solicitors of the village of Mt. Victory announced at the opening of the drive they were already over their goal of $90. They reported $120 collected before the drive had officially opened for the first group in the county to the top.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

PLEA FOR BOYS

Dear readers of The Marion Star, neighbors and Christians of Marion:

I would like to ask a few questions.

How many Christians in the neighborhood of those boys sentenced to Lancaster have tried to help them? Have you asked them to Sunday school or church, or tried to help them in any other way?

I do know it to be a fact, as I myself live in a neighborhood with several boys of my own, where neighbors don't like children of any kind, pets either, and if one gets on their lawn they go out and fuss with them. As we live close to a school I often hear the little first graders tell them "You don't own this sidewalk!"

Children don't forget that kind of treatment and I have seen those children group and take resentment out on these people at Halloween time, when they think they can get by with it. Why not start and treat children like human beings? They have to go out and fight for you to keep your home and sidewalks. Many of them don't come back. I work with boys and they will do most anything you ask of them if you ask it as a request and not a demand.

Children, especially in broken homes, need kindness from their neighbor and Christians. What about Boys' Town and Commonwealth for Boys in Adrian, Mich.? Could not those brothers be sent there instead of Lancaster and given a chance which they have not had?

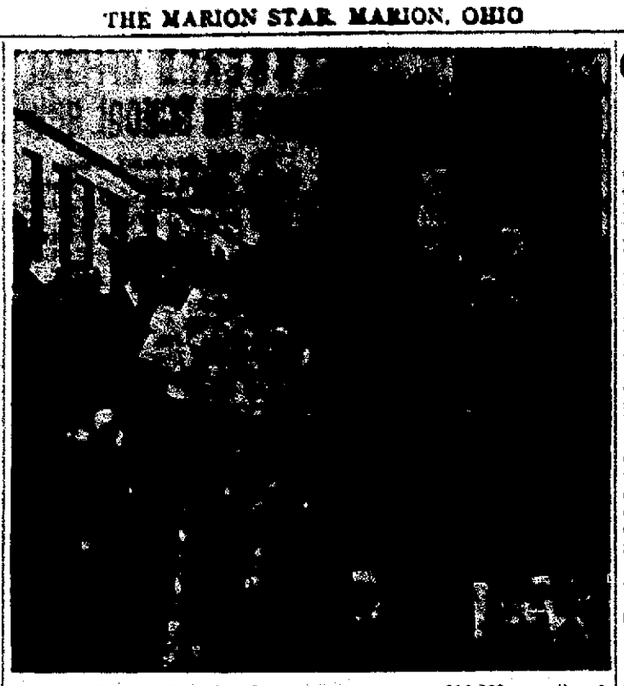

Why not someone who cares for boys' souls get behind them and give them a chance? You do not come out of a house of correction always better. Did we not read of two brothers this week being sent to a house of correction? Did it help them?

Let us as good citizens and Christians get behind our boys in our town and see if we can't help them. If we know some boy in our neighborhood needs help, help him before he gets into trouble. Don't kick him in the gutter, lift him out. Does the Bible not teach us the Lord rejoiced more over one saved sinner than ninety and nine just souls? If we don't help them who will?

ONE WHO CARES.

P.S.: We can help a lot by paying for dues for a boy in the Y. M. C. A., where recreation means a lot to a boy if he is unable to pay.

With 2,733 cases, Minnesota was hardest hit in the 1946 outbreak of infantile paralysis in the United States.

The program, in charge of Elinor Davis and Hazel Allihler, consisted of a piano solo by Eileen Mosher, a poem, by Elinor Davis, Irish jokes by Audrey Bevis, Barbara Hoffman, Gladys Foos, Emma Underhill and Etta White, a duet, by Barbara Hoffman and Eileen Mosher, and prayer by Pauline White.

CIO To Sponsor Circus at Armory

The Marion Industrial Union council will sponsor an indoor circus at Marion armory Sunday and Monday, March 16 and 17. There will be afternoon and evening performances each day.

The show is the Patterson Brothers' circus, featuring Happy Holmes, juggling clown, a bicycle and unicycle act; and whip roping and spinning by Tex Jim Gordon and wife, among other acts.

The show will be the first indoor circus to be held in Marion since 1943, according to Industrial Union Council officials.

Ellis Oller, president of the council, announced that through the generosity of local merchants and professional people the children from the Salvation Army and Children's home will attend the Sunday matinee.

Ed Parr is chairman of the circus committee.

Crawford, Wyandot Highway Projects Set

Bids on state highway projects in Wyandot and Crawford counties will be among those opened March 25 on nearly half a million dollars' worth of road repair and bridge cleaning projects, State Highway Director Murray D. Shaffer has announced in an Associated Press dispatch from Columbus.

The Wyandot county project is on the federal aid program. It includes grading and paving with bituminous surface treatment approximately three-quarters of a mile of state route 67 in Sycamore township, constructing a continuous steel beam bridge with concrete deck and substructure over Greasy run, and building a concrete slab bridge with concrete abutments over Mile run. Completion date is set for June 30, 1948.

Projects in Crawford county include resurfacing by application of aggregate 2.9 miles of state route 98 in Vernon township and 1.36 miles of state route 309 in Auburn township. Completion date is May 1, 1947.

W. E. RANKIN DIES AT CITY HOSPITAL

Suffers Stroke While at Work at Ordnance Plant.

William Edward Rankin, 64, a resident of 467 Olney avenue, died in City hospital at 8:40 a. m. today. He suffered a stroke while at work at the Scioto ordnance plant about 2:30 a. m.

Born March 2, 1883, in Columbus, bus, he was a son of Charles E. and Frances Klingel Rankin. Oct. 10, 1912, he married Elsie Reinwald in Marion. A resident of Marion 40 years, he was an employe of the ordnance plant two years.

Surviving with his widow is a brother, Henry N. Rankin of the Veterans hospital at Chillicothe.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 10:30 a. m. in the Merle H. Hughes mortuary on Mt. Vernon avenue by Rev. W. E. Zimmerman, pastor of First Church of the Nazarene. Burial will be in Green Lawn cemetery, Columbus. Friends may call at the Rankin home after 10 a. m. Wednesday until 9 a. m. Thursday when the body will be removed to the funeral home for services.

AMBUSH

1929 the first strike ever lost by the railroad brotherhoods, McNear was outspoken and active in defying their demands.

He rode on trains through picket lines and vigorously denounced the strikers. Federal seizure by President Roosevelt in 1942, after the 1941 strike continued into wartime, followed three months of violent incidents. After the road was returned to McNear the strike was resumed and there was more violence.

The current dispute began Dec. 28, 1941, when 104 engineers and trainmen among 600 employes quit work in protest against a new wage scale and new working rules. During government wartime management after March, 1942, operation was normal, but negotiations failed and the strike was renewed Oct. 1, 1945, when the road was returned to McNear's management.

MRS. BARRINGER RITES TO BE HELD TOMORROW

Body of Former Marion Woman To Arrive from Florida.

Funeral services for Mrs. Ulah B. Barringer, formerly of Marion, who died at Orlando, Fla., Feb. 16, will be conducted here Wednesday afternoon. The body was expected to arrive this afternoon at the Schaffner-Denzer funeral home, where rites will be conducted. Time of the services will be 2 o'clock, and Dr. V. E. Busler, pastor of Epworth Methodist church, will officiate. Burial will be in Marion cemetery. Mrs. Barringer died in her home.

Born Aug. 28, 1889, at Galion she was a daughter of John and Dora Howell Price, the father a native of Mansfield and the mother of Galion. April 29, 1916, she was married to James B. Barringer who died Jan. 1, 1943, in Orlando. At one time he was manager of a loan company here.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Blanch Alline of Shaker Heights, and a brother, Donald J. Price of Detroit, Mich.

BARBERTON SWAYED BY MYSTERIOUS EARTH SHOCK

Origin Unknown; No One Injured; No Damage.

BARBERTON, O., March 11—This industrial city of 30,000 was swayed by a mysterious earth shock last night which threw residents from their chairs and rattled glassware on household shelves.

No one was reported injured and no damage was discovered. Origin of the tremor, which lasted several seconds and was felt in widely-separated areas of the city, was undetermined.

A seismologist at San Diego, Calif., said his recorder registered a "very pronounced disturbance" at the approximate time of the local shock, but he was unable to locate it. No disturbances were registered by seismographs at several universities located in various parts of the country.

City Engineer Harry D. Bushey said a West Barberton area was shown by record of his office to have sunk approximately two feet in a 20-year period.

JUDGMENT SOUGHT IN COURT ACTION

Weichold Against Truman Suit Opens Today.

The civil suit for money only of Miss Anna Weichold against Springer W. Truman of Marion was being heard before a jury in common pleas court today.

In her petition, filed Dec. 2, 1942, Miss Weichold claims there is due her approximately $7,800 in wages for her employment by Truman at the Saratoga Grill, 302 West Center street, between 1934 and 1942. She also asks for $1,200 which she claims Truman owes her for the use of her automobile for approximately one and one-half years and for approximately $1,000 which she charges Truman borrowed from her.

Sitting on the bench is Judge Ralph Sugrue of Tiffin, common pleas judge of Seneca county.

Attorneys for Miss Weichold are Carhart and Carhart of Marion and Price and Price of Kenton. Truman's attorneys are W. P. Mooney and Martin and Redd, all of Marion.

Truman was on the witness stand for cross-examination in the opening of the trial this morning. Other witnesses included Bessie Mae Swisher and Lillian Ciolino, employes of the Saratoga Bar and Miss Weichold.

The trial is expected to continue through tomorrow. Fourteen witnesses for the plaintiff have been subpoenaed.

The jury includes the following: Clifford Thomas of 138 Waterloo street; Lowell Lyon of near Caledonia, Robert Isler of near Prospect, Ben Smith of near Marion, Emerson Haley of near Marion, Lulu Shoemaker of Martel, Helen Annette of near Prospect, Kate M. Parrish of 365 Mary street; Delno Boxwell of near Prospect, Mary Bell O'Brien of 491 East Center street; Earl Hindman of near Marion and Isadora Dix of 214 Windsor street.

OHIOAN HELD FOR BURNING HIS FIVE-MONTHS-OLD SON

Cincinnati Police Say He Used Cigaret on Baby's Feet.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, March 11—Jack Slagle, 34, today faced a charge of applying a lighted cigaret to the feet of his five-months-old son, Lionel.

He was accused in a municipal court warrant signed yesterday by his wife, Ann. The action was brought under a state statute which alleges torturing or neglecting a child after the Slagle's oldest child, Jo Ann, four, blamed her father for burning the baby's feet, Police Sgt. Robert Klug reported.

Klug said police found baby Lionel's feet blistered Saturday night when they investigated report of a disturbance at the Slagle residence.

Slagle was arrested in a nearby cafe after Jo Ann told officers, "Daddy burned him with a cigaret," the police sergeant said.

Conference Delegate Elected by Printers

A delegate and an alternate were elected to attend the semi-annual session of the Ohio Typographical confrence April 12-13 in Springfield at a meeting of Marion graphical conference April 12-13 in day night in The Star building. George W. Sorrells was elected delegate and Fred P. Haas, alternate. An application for apprentice membership of Roger H. Campbell was accepted. The union voted to indorse a Boston, Mass., proposition giving apprentices who served in World War II full credit toward membership for time lost in service. If the proposition receives sufficient endorsements it will be submitted to referendum of the I.T.U. membership.

E. F. Wittmer Elected Convention Delegate

E. F. Wittmer was elected a delegate for the Marion Chapter of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers to the society's state convention in Columbus March 20 at a dinner meeting held at Greenwood Inn Monday night.

After the business meeting the engineers were taken through the Hydraulic Press Manufacturing Co. of Mt. Gilead. They were shown the company's new plant and explained the functions of large and small type presses. Wilbert Snyder physicist in the sound division of the U. S. bureau of standards, was a guest.

ANTI-LILIENTHAL SET COURT NEW SOLONS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 11 — A drive is on today to line up most of the 16 freshmen Republican senators against confirming David E. Lilienthal as chairman of the atomic energy commission.

Colleagues said Senator Harry Caln (R-Wash), himself one of the 16, is trying to organize an anti-Lilienthal front in the class of '47.

Three of the new Republican lawmakers — Bricker of Ohio, Flanders of Vermont and Kem of Missouri — have come out against the 47-year-old atomic chief. But a fourth, Ives of New York, announced late yesterday he is going to vote for him.

Few of the 12 other freshmen have even hinted on how they stand.

Their votes could swing the decision.

The latest tabulation shows 36 senators who have announced in favor of Lilienthal, 18 against. Forty-eight votes would be required for confirmation if all qualified members were present for the decisive roll call.

Democratic Senators Sheridan Downey of California and Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma are the latest additions to the Lilienthal camp. Senator Smith (R-NJ) announced yesterday he also would support him. Ives came in a few minutes later, followed by Senator Saltonstall (R-Mass).

Committee recommendations usually bear considerable weight in the senate, and Lilienthal's confirmation carried 8 to 1 committee approval when it came to the senate yesterday. Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) cast the only disapproving vote.

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Ia), chairman of the atomic energy committee which approved the nomination, said he will call it up for debate tomorrow.

All hands concede the fight will be bitter, and probably long.

FLOOD WARNING SYSTEM FOR LAKE ERIE AREA SET

Bucyrus Rainfall Station To Play Role in Plan.

By The Associated Press

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 11—A coordinated flood warning system for the Lake Erie-Lake Ontario drainage basin was announced today by the Buffalo district office of the army corps of engineers.

The plan, to be based on local rainfall, snow cover and river stage reports, will enable flood protection forces to be mobilized more quickly to meet flood threats and will make possible increased data for the long range planning of flood control measures.

District rainfall stations in Ohio include: Cleveland, Warren, Spencer, Bucyrus. Fremont, O., is a rainfall and river station.

ANGERED OFFICIAL QUITS IN SCHOOL ROW

By The Associated Press

WEST JEFFERSON, O., March 11—One hundred striking students of West Jefferson High school returned to their classes today—then their superintendent decided he was quitting.

"This is my last day," declared Superintendent Herbert Kell, who has been around West Jefferson schools since 1919.

"The school board has insisted on running the school, so they'll have to do it."

The students planned their return after the school board scheduled a revision in the school grading system, a few hours after the student walkout Monday afternoon.

"The system of grading will be changed," said board President Ralph Parsons after a special meeting Monday night, "but the school officials will continue in their present positions for the time being."

The grading system, established by Superintendent Kell, involved the cutting of final grades because of disciplinary demerits received by students during the term.

Nancy Bradfield and Jack Pfiel, high school seniors, spoke during the board meeting where changes in the system were drafted. No teachers were present.

Superintendent Kell served as principal of grade and high schools successively in his long service in the West Jefferson school system. He has been superintendent for the last four years.

of 1945 or the first three quarters of 1946."

But some of the bills before the committee, he said, would bring about "complete atrophy" in collective bargaining.

And there would be "industrial chaos" for months, he continued, if congress ordered immediate outlawing of the closed shop and other forms of "union security." The closed shop requires employers to hire none but union workers.

New Contracts Only

If congress should decide to enact such legislation, he said, it ought to be confined to new contracts between labor and management. He contended that if closed shop provisions in existing contracts should be cancelled by law unions would say the entire contracts were reopened.

"If the congress wants to start out deliberately to create industrial strife for a period of about six months," Schwellenbach declared, "it could choose no better course than this."

He said he could see nothing to promote industrial peace in bills that would forbid bargaining on an industry-wide, plant-by-plant basis. Instead, he said, this would destroy a powerful weapon the labor department has used to prevent local conflicts.

COLLAPSE

Benjamin identified one of the persons injured as Richard Gilday, a water works employe who was taken to a hospital.

"Gilday saved his life by quickly leaping under one of our water works trucks and about 30 tons of brick and debris landed on one end of the truck, fortunately leaving space for Gilday to come out," Benjamin said.

Standard Oil Company Employes Meet Here

The fifth of a series of meetings of training and educational courses for the bulk station personnel of the Standard Oil Co. from the nine counties in the local district was held Monday night at Hotel Harding. Approximately 60 persons were present. The study was on accounting practices and credits and guest speaker was J. T. Bird of Cleveland, manager of the company sales accounting department. One more meeting is to be held in the series.

FORMER LA RUE RESIDENT STRICKEN IN KENTON

Mrs. Elizabeth Hannah Scott Claimed by Death.

Special to The Star

LARUE, March 11—Mrs. Elizabeth Hannah Scott, 83, formerly of LaRue, died in San Antonio hospital, Kenton, at 7:50 a. m. today. She had been ill a week. The last several years, she made her home with a son at Willard. She was born Aug. 6, 1863, in Union county. Her husband, Acasius M. Scott, died Dec. 24, 1933. She was a member of the LaRue Methodist church.

Surviving with the son at Willard, A. E. Scott, are these other children, Mrs. Emma White of LaRue and DeVere Scott of Newark, 12 grandchildren, 21 great-grandchildren, two brothers, Joseph Landon of Broadway and O. G. Landon of Richwood, and two sisters, Mrs. Cora Daymude and Mrs. Gertrude Simmons, both of Marion.

Funeral will be conducted Thursday at 2 p. m. in the Ford funeral home here by Rev. C. A. Hutchison, pastor of the Methodist church. Burial will be at LaRue. Friends may call at the funeral home.

LEADING STOCKS IN DOWNWARD TUMBLE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 11 — The direction was lower for the majority of leading stocks in today's market although a few issues made feeble attempts at recovery.

Slowdowns were frequent after a fairly active start. Declines of fractions to a point or so predominated near midday.

Buying reticence again was blamed partly on the cloudy foreign picture, in addition to doubts regarding business, taxes and recently soaring commodities.

Mild resistance was displayed by U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Sears Roebuck, J. I. Case, Caterpillar Tractor, Santa Fe and Great Northern Railway.

Critical Mansfield Liquor Clerk Fired

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 11 — Joseph Letizia, a clerk in the Mansfield liquor store and who has been critical of the state liquor department, was ordered dismissed today, effective next Monday, on charges of misfeasance and malfeasance.

Stanley B. Cofall, state liquor director, advised the state civil service commission Letizia consumed liquor on the premises from store stocks and made "many errors in serving customers, delivering wrong brands and bottle sizes."

The order also asserted Letizia was "unable to make an accurate account of customers' sales tickets," frequently reported late for duty," and "allowed full case buyers to sign fictitious names on store records."

Harry V. Mounts Starts New Term as Auditor

Harry V. Mounts of 1191 East Center street began his fourth term as Marion county auditor, yesterday. Mr. Mounts, a Republican, who was reelected to his office last November, served six years as a deputy under Earl E. Thomas prior to his election as auditor. The term is for four years.

FORMER MARION, GALION C. OF C. HEAD STRICKEN

Lawrence M. Vaughn Dies In Owensboro, Ky.

Special to The Star

GALION, March 11—Word has been received by Mrs. George Chyba of Galion of the death of Lawrence M. Vaughn of Owensboro, Ky., a former secretary of the Marion and the Galion Chambers of Commerce. He was secretary of the Marion Chamber for about four years from 1921 until he resigned in November 1925.

Mr. Vaughn, who had been ill since the holidays, died Monday morning at his home in Owensboro. He had gone to Arizona to improve his health but had returned home two weeks ago.

Surviving are his widow and three daughters, Mrs. Robert Brink of Owensboro, Mrs. William Cross of Lafayette, Ind., and Larrie Lou, a student at Arizona State college, Phoenix, Ariz.

Burial will be made Wednesday at LaPorte, Ind., his birthplace.

KILLED BY TRAIN

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 11—A freight train stuck and killed Robert Bliss Lanham, 22, today. Police said Lanham stood on the track and watched the train approach.

MANSFIELD SLAYER, JAILED IN '37, FREED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 11 — Charles Wilson, convicted of first degree murder 10 years ago for the slaying of his pretty 17-year-old sweetheart, Dean Moorhead, in Mansfield, was given a parole today, effective May 28.

Former Gov. Frank J. Lausche commuted Wilson's conviction to second-degree murder Jan. 31, just before leaving office. The Ohio pardon and parole commission voted two to one to give him his freedom on condition that he go to Illinois.

Judge C. E. Everett was the dissenting member, voting to continue the case until May, 1956.

Wilson, now 33 years old, has "made a fine record" in his work at the office in London prison farm, Percy Lowery, another board member, declared. He added that Gov. Lauche had given the commission no explanation for granting the commutation only 10 years after the slaying.

In another special Richland county case, the commission voted two to one to parole Jay Maloney, who was received in the Ohio penitentiary Sept. 4, 1936, to serve one to 20 years for sodomy.

The parole, effective April 17, specifies that Maloney is to be returned to the commission for further consideration.

Lowery cast the dissenting vote in this case, voting to continue the case to March, 1950.

The commission also granted 49 paroles to Mansfield reformatory inmates and nine to prisoners at the Maryville reformatory for women.

TURN-AWAY CROWD SEES GOLDEN GLOVES OPENING SESSION

Delaware Fighters Walk Away With Six Out of Seven Bouts

Jack Draper and Bob Hunt Put Marion on Boxing Tournament Map.

By ARTHUR B. MYERS

A turn-away crowd at Marion armory last night saw a classy Delaware stable of fighters take things just about their own way in the opening fights of the Golden Gloves tourney.

Of the seven Delaware fighters who fought, six won their bouts handily and displayed plenty of ring know-how in doing it.

Delaware winners were Bud Craig, welterweight; Russ Wilson, light-heavyweight; Briss Craig, lightweight; Ward Moore, welterweight; Ward Watkins, heavyweight; and Jim Ward, welterweight.

Marion boys who looked good were Jack Draper, who took a handy decision from Bob Rogers of LaRue, and Bob Hunt, the power-packed atom, who bounced his 60 pounds off Oscar Stapleton's chops and put him away in about a minute of the first round.

Galion Boy Shines

Charley Farina of Galion looked good in a TKO of Buck Davenport of Delaware in a middleweight go.

Y's Men's club officials said more than 300 people were turned away from the door as the armory filled to its 800 capacity shortly before the start of the bouts at 8 p. m.

Judges were Don Burton, Ike Jones, R. G. Smallwood, and Bert Curtis. Dr. A. J. Wagner and Jack Lewis handled the refereeing and Marion Hinklin and Russell M. Wilhelm alternated as announcers.

Joseph Yannitell, matchmaker, said about 20 boys, excluding paperweights, did not get a chance to show their wares last night. They drew byes and will be matched Wednesday night. Winners of last night's fights will also be back Wednesday to try for slots in the finals Friday night.

22 Bouts Run Off

Twenty-two bouts were run off last night.

Kenny Chevalier started the night off with a TKO over Raleigh Johnson in one minute and 25 seconds of the second round of their bantamweight scrap. He forced the fight all the way and did particularly punishing work when he had Johnson on the ropes, which was often. The referee stopped the fight. Chevalier fought last year.

Another veteran, Bill Cochran, TKO'd Tom Parker of LaRue in the second round of their lightweight bout. Cochran had both too much power and savvy for the LaRue boy and had him in trouble most of the time. Parker weathered the first round but ran into one too many of Cochran's hard hooks in the second.

Jack Draper made it a sadder night for LaRue in the following bout by decisioning Bob Rogers of that community. Rogers was game but was no match for Draper's experience. He was also handicapped by the lanky Marion lad's long reach and was kept off balance continually by jabs. Draper was also strong in the infighting, but could not put away the rugged LaRue boy. The decision was unanimous.

Delaware Parade Begins

Then the parade of Delaware victories started. Bud Craig KO'd Bob Leighty of Marion in the second round of their welterweight fight. He worked cleverly from the opening gong, had Leighty on the ropes and in trouble continually, and backed him into a corner and put him down midway in the second.

Russ Wilson of Delaware a clever light-heavyweight with a wallop, ran into an inexperienced but tough and well-conditioned boy in Tom Vlachos of Marion. Vlachos went down for a count in the first round but held up under Wilson's punishment during the next two. Decision of the judges was unanimous for the Delaware boy.

Briss Craig, 127, showed boxing form and hitting power in a first round TKO over Leroy Lumpkins. He sent the Marion boy down for a nine count with a hard hook into the stomach at about the one minute point. Lumpkins gamely got up but was unable to continue.

Moore In T. K. O.

Ward Moore, 140, was strong and workmanlike in his TKO of Basil Arcuri, ruggedly-built Marion boy, in one minute and 48 seconds of the first round of their set-to. The ringwise Delaware lad had Arcuri fighting out of a corner most of the time. He had him bounced half-way through the ropes in a corner when the referee stopped the fight.

Jim Ward of Delaware decisioned Don Allen of LaRue decisively in their welterweight scrap. Ward, shifty and clever, put Allen down for nine in the second after some devastating infighting. In the last round Ward knocked Allen through the ropes. The bout was marred by "wrestling" in the clinches, both boys ending horizontal more than once.

In a heavyweight fight, Ward Watkins of Delaware decisioned Russell Bartlett of Ashley. The Ashley boy spent much of the time on the canvas, due to both his own awkwardness and Watkins efforts. In the last round Watkins landed a hard chop to Bartlett's jaw and followed it up to send him down for nine. He was down twice more before the round ended.

The only Delaware boy who didn't make the grade was Bud Davenport, a middleweight, who ran into an opponent with much his style in Charles Farina of Galion. Both boys were awkward but willing. Farina landed a right hook to the jaw with seconds to go in the second round and Davenport took a seven count as the bell rang. Farina continued punishing the Delaware boy in the following round and the referee stopped the fight with 35 seconds to go.

Bob Hunt, last year's paperweight scourge, continued his winning ways, getting Oscar Stapleton into a corner and putting him down for the count in slightly over one minute of the first round. Hunt weighed 60 pounds and Stapleton 59.

Eugene Hunt, bantamweight, lost to Harold Knapp in a bout which went the limit. The boys were aggressive, clever and evenly matched, but Knapp won the unanimous decision of the judges.

Joe Neidig of West Mansfield, a hard rock, pounded lanky Jack Sekinger throughout three rounds but was unable to put him down for keeps. The powerful out-of-towner kept Sekinger on the ropes much of the time and knocked him clean through onto the apron of the ring on one occasion but the Marion lad was game and stayed in the fight. Neidig took the decision handily.

Richwood Boy Decisioned

Dale Lama of Marion came back from a first round knock-down to decision Jack Millington of Richwood in a featherweight bout.

Gene Coulson, 100 pounds, of Mt. Victory, TKO'd Charles Thompson, 100 pounds, of Marion, in the second round when the latter's second stopped the fight. Coulson's punching was sharp and accurate and Thompson took two trips to the canvas in the second round when his handler decided he had had it for the night.

Harold Carpenter of Marion decisioned Varian Wirick, 114, of Galion in a free-swinging bout more notable for willingness than science.

Dick Obenour, 123, got the nod over Jim Long, both of Marion, in much the same sort of fight.

Bill Miller, 104, took a close decision over Joe Davis as the judges split, two to one. Miller sported the fanciest trunks of the night, monogrammed, and a nice left jab.

Sonny Northrup, of Marion, dropped the decision to Robert Sherman of Marion in their paperweight bout.

John Hopkins outboxed John Welch for the decision in another paperweight go.

Robert Lowery's cleverness outweighed Johnny Jones aggressiveness to give the former a split decision in their paperweight bout.

In the closing bout of the night, Albert Treisch, bantamweight, took a close decision over Robert Haycraft of Marion back to Galion with him.

MID-STATE LEAGUE MEET SET TONIGHT

Cage Championship Tangle on List.

The Mid-State league will hold a dinner meeting at Hotel Harding tonight.

School officials from St. Mary, Marysville, Richwood, Mt. Gilead, Sunbury and Carey will be present.

At this meeting a provision is expected to be made whereby Marysville and Sunbury, league leaders for the cage season, can officially be co-champions thus eliminating the necessity of a playoff.

Sunbury announced before opening of the cage season its intention of dropping out of the league and is expected to do this tonight.

The All-Mid-State cage team will also be announced tonight.

6,207 Pay To See Cage Tourney at Bucyrus

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, March 11 — A complete check on attendance figures at the Crawford county cage tournament, held in Bucyrus High school ending a week ago, disclosed that 6,207 fans paid admissions to see the six session tourney, an average of 1,000 per night. Gross intake for the tourney was $2,609.70c from which will be deduced federal and state tax and expenses, expected to total about $600. Figures were slightly lower than last year due to the fact that school officials stopped the sale of tickets when the auditorium was filled to capacity.

Phillies Hope Puddin' Head Will Terrorize NL Pitchers

BY FRANK ECK
Associated Press Sports Editor

CLEARWATER, Fla. — Every baseball spring training camp has its popular rookie—you know, the kid even the manager keeps pulling for in the hopes he'll make that big jump from nowhere to the big leagues.

The hottest thing in Clearwater for the Philadelphia Phillies paid him a $16,000 bonus — the government got about one third of it—just to sign his name—Willie Edward Jones. He's out for the shortstop berth and if he makes it the Phillies might cause the Cardinals, Dodgers, Cubs, Braves and Pirates some mightly unpleasant days in their rush for first division places in the National League.

Thumbnail Preview

PHILADELPHIA PHILLIES

Hitting—Fair.
Infield—Good.
Outfield—Fine.
Pitching—Uncertain.
Catching—Steady.
Finish—Second Division.

High School Nickname

Actually, Jones is far from being a Puddin' Head. The term usually is applied to a ball player who is slow in the thinking department. Jones got his nickname in Laurel Hill High School in Bennettsville, S. C., about five years ago.

He's a big kid with strong arms, stands six-feet-one, weighs 205 pounds and won't be 21 until Aug. 16. Jones never played a game of organized ball in his life, yet Ben Chapman, manager of the Phillies, and all his aides and players are "high" on the lad who had 14 major league clubs interested in him. Five teams offered him a bonus but the Phils and President Bob Carpenter's bankroll won the decision.

Johnny Nee, who has been scouting 21 years, saw Puddin' Head in the Palmetto semi-pro league in South Carolina, a loop that embraces teams from Darlington, Sumpter, Camden, Hartsville, Kingstree, Florence and Bishopville. Around these small towns, Puddin' Head is a legend. Pitcher's shivver just at the mention of his name.

Hit .503 Average

And well they might for Puddin' Head hit a robust .503 in 35 games for the Bennettsville Red Sox last season after returning from 33 months in the Navy as a petty officer 2/c. He played with Navy teams in Jacksonville and San Diego.

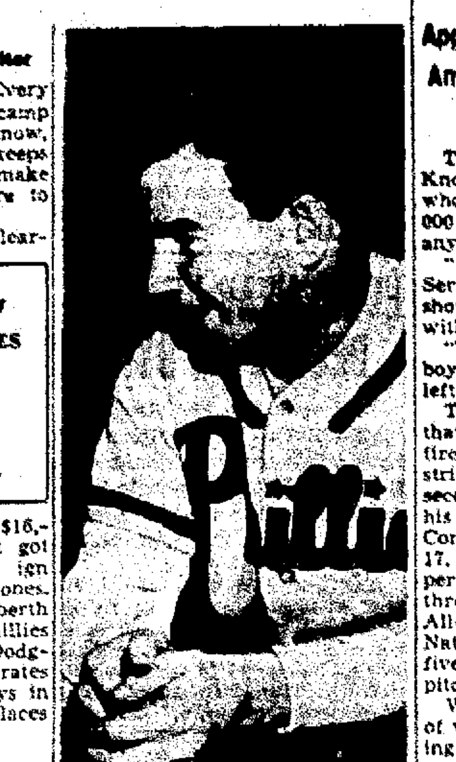

Jones, a native of Laurel Hill, N. C., is willing to play any position just to get in the ball game.

"Ah can't sit on the bench, Mr. Chapman," he said to boss Ben the first day out. "Ah've just got to be active."

Jones played short and third with Bennettsville where he hit seven homers and nine triples and doubles. He's fast on the bases despite his bulk.

"I saw Puddin' Head in eight games in South Carolina last season and he hit in every one of them and made no errors," says Scout Nee. "He's the Clint Hartung of the Phils. (Hartung is the fabulous rookie with the New York Giants at Phoenix, Ariz.)

"Jones is just a natural ball player. They never seemed to get him out when I saw him play last September. He has real baseball instinct, can slide well and retrieve balls from the outfield.

PUDDIN' HEAD JONES
Drew $16,000 Bonus

"You can't help but like this modest kid. He reminds me of Joe Cronin when Joe broke in.

Ennis Made Jump

"Now it's quite a jump from sandlot ball to the majors but after all Del Ennis made it with the Phillies last year and so did Grady Hatton of the Reds."

Nee, not too well known among baseball fans but a man who does a terrific job beating the bushes for talent, has signed such big league stars as Bill Dickey, Spud Chandler, Johnny Allen, Dixie Walker and Tommy Henrich to Yankee contracts. He even signed Chapman, his present boss, to a Yankee document.

O.S.U. Coach To Speak At Crestline Banquet

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, March 11 — Dick Fisher of the Ohio State university coaching staff will be the guest speaker at the annual banquet for the members of the football-basketball teams which will be held Thursday evening in the school cafeteria. Only 100 tickets have been printed and preparations are being made for just that number.

Rev. R. L. Van Scoy of Trinity Lutheran church will act as toastmaster. Dinner will be served by Mrs. A. T. Enoch and her members of the home economic class.

SIGNS WITH ATHLETICS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 11 — Bob Southworth, who played for Lima of the Ohio State league last year, has signed a Philadelphia Athletics contract and will report to the Moline, Ill., club in the Central Association. He is a nephew of the Boston Braves' manager, Billy Southworth.

NOTHING LEFT BUT SERIES FOR FELLER

Appearance in Classic Only Ambition Says Rapid Robert.

By The Associated Press

TUCSON, Ariz., March 11—Know what Bob Feller, the man who may make as much as $80,000 this year, wants more than anything?

"I'd like to pitch in the World Series," the ace pitcher said in a short pause between workouts with the Cleveland Indians.

"That," the onetime Iowa farmboy shrugged, "is about all that's left for me."

There wasn't much rebuttal for that. After all, the 28-year-old fireballer set a record of 348 strikeouts last year, pitched his second no-hit game and brought his total of one-hitters to eight. Coming direct to the majors at 17, he has averaged 18 victories per playing season, deducting three full seasons in the Navy. In All-Star games, he has allowed National leaguers one run and five hits in 11 2/3 innings pitched.

What are the Indians' chances of winning the pennant and making that dream come true this year?

"Well, maybe not the best," Feller conceded. "But we'll make a lot of teams step. This is a greatly improved club."

The Tribe, despite Feller's 26 wins against 15 defeats, finished sixth in 1946.

The team to beat, Rapid Robert believes, is the Detroit Tigers but "don't forget the Red Sox are champions until they're licked."

2 LOCAL FIVES DROP TOURNAMENT GAMES

Two Marion independent cage squads, Green Camp K. of P. and Guy's Raiders, stepped into fast state competition last night at Findlay but lasted only one game in the Y. M. C. A. Northwestern Ohio district tournament.

The Raiders met the Bellevue Eagles and lead them for 20 minutes of the tilt but the Eagle then spread their wings and soared to a 57 to 48 win.

Green Camp stayed on the heels of Liberty but finally lost 60 to 48.

Another local team will try its luck in the Northwestern Ohio tournament tomorrow when the Shamrocks, city Hi-Y champs, meet a Fostoria Hi-Y club at Tiffin.

Tag Team Match Billed For Thursday Mat Show

A 90-minute tag team match pitting Rufus Jones and Gil La Cross against Duke Keomuka and Angelo Martinelli will feature the wrestling show at 8:30 p. m. Thursday at the armory.

Two 30-minute matches will precede the main event. They will match LaCross against Keomuka and Jones against Martinelli.

A 10-minute preliminary, with contestants yet to be named, will open the show.

Ted Williams Just Another Slugger To Cincy Red Boss

Neun Says He'll Play Him Like Any Other Hitter in Exhibition Tilt.

By The Associated Press

As far as Johnny Neun is concerned, slugger Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox is just another ball player who belts 'em to right field.

Neun, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, said he planned no defensive "shift" against Williams in the Redlegs' exhibition game with the American league champs here today and added:

"We'll play him just like any other good lefthanded pull hitter."

Neun nominated three rookies, southpaws Kent Peterson and Bill Schultz and righthander Everet Lively, to share the pitching assignment against the Red Sox. Kermit Wahl, one of four candidates for the shortstop position abdicated by Eddie Miller, will start today's game.

• • •

ST. PETERSBURG — "We have a young team and with this fine-looking squad of recruits to pick from and to develop I don't see how we can be kept out of championship rating for several years," says St. Louis Cardinal owner Sam Breadon talking after his first look at the 1947 Redbird squad at their St. Petersburg, Fla., training base.

Breadon was particularly optimistic after righthander Murry Dickson ended his holdout siege and signed a contract after a brief conference with the Cardinals' boss man.

• • •

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — The New York Yankees' first and second squads join forces here today and indications were that Manager Bucky Harris' opening day lineup would include three men, two of them rookies, playing strange positions. Bobby Brown, a shortstop with Newark last season, is Harris' third baseman at the moment, and Larry (Yogi) Berra, a catcher with Newark last year, is his right fielder. The third is Tommy Henrich, normally an outfielder, slated for first base, which means that Nick Etten is no longer a candidate.

• • •

FT. LAUDERDALE, Fla.—Lefthander Lou Tost and Jack Christensen and Eltherlee (Buck) Ross of the Milwaukee farm club or lefty Jimmy Wallace were scheduled to hurl for the Boston Braves today in their third exhibition with the American league's St. Louis Browns.

• • •

MIAMI, Fla. — Manager Muddy Ruel put his St. Louis Browns through a strenuous three-hour drill yesterday, longest since the squad reached camp, and gave all hands an extended bunting workout.

• • •

BALBOA, C. Z.—Stan Rojek, stand-in shortstop for Pee Wee Reese, was left behind when the main squad of the Brooklyn Dodgers came to the Canal Zone and there was talk of a deal with any one of a number of National league clubs.

• • •

ORLANDO, Fla. — Al Evans, first-string catcher for the Washington Senators, will be out of action for two weeks. Evans was struck by a foul tip in Sunday's exhibition, bursting a fluid sac below the knee joint.

• • •

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Pittsburgh Pirate Prexy Frank McKinney and General Manager Roy Hamey were to go to St. Petersburg today officially to take part in the dedication of Lang field, but also to talk with Sam Breadon of the Cardinals. The Bucs are reported to have lines out for pitcher Murry Dickson, outfielder Buster Adams and third baseman Whitey Kurowski.

• • •

CLEARWATER, Fla. — For the first time this spring, Manager Steve O'Neill put together his "regular" Detroit lineup today to send the Tiger first stringers against the Philadelphia Nationals in an exhibition game.

• • •

LOS ANGELES—Chicago Cubs Manager Charley Grimm is pleased with the work of Russ Meyer and Cliff Chambers, promising young pitchers. Meyer has allowed only two runs in 12 innings, including eight scoreless innings in the Catalina island camp.

• • •

LOS ANGELES — Jim Belsing, Chicago White Sox outfield rookie from Milwaukee, is taking it easy with an injured finger suffered in batting practice. The Sox defeated Jimmy Dykes' Hollywood All-Stars 11-7 in yesterday's exhibition.

• • •

CLEARWATER, Fla. — Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe has suffered a recurrence of the painful groin injury he received last August, denting the Philadelphia Phillies' first division hopes. He is undergoing diathermy treatments daily but thus far the injury has failed to respond.

Success Assured for Next Community Concert Season

The membership campaign for Marion's 1947-48 Community Concert association season was assured success Monday night when reports were heard at a meeting of the workers at the Y. M. C. A. A great majority of the 1946-47 memberships were reported renewed, and with new memberships, a capacity house at the Palace theater, where concerts are held, is assured for the season. Names of persons desiring association memberships are being placed on a waiting list at campaign headquarters which opened at the H. Schaffner Co. store today. From this list any vacancies occuring in present membership will be supplied, it was stated.

In charge at the campaign headquarters are Mrs. Karl Schell, Community Concert association president, and Mrs. H. K. Mouser, campaign chairman. Here to aid in selection of talent for next concert season is Harold Welch, organization director from New York City. Artists will be selected for at least three 1947-48 concerts as in previous years. Other workers assisting, and those at campaign headquarters include Mrs. Fanny Benson, assistant campaign chairman, Mrs. A. G. Birch, Mrs. Richard Jennings, Mrs. William Thomas and Mrs. O. D. Anderson. Anyone wishing information may call 2168.

The reports Monday night were preceded by a dessert lunch in charge of Mrs. Glen Penry, Mrs E. P. McAfee and Mrs. George Oborn. Centering the table was a low, flat bowl of hyacinth and iris arranged around a decorative miniature piano, and completing the decorations were two pottery figure musicians and white candles in crystal candleholders. Greenery surrounded and made a miniature carpet for the centerpiece. At either end of the table were seated Mrs. Schell, who presided at the coffee urn, and Mrs. Mouser, who served the dessert. About 60 were present.

Next season will be the third year for Marion Community concerts. Final program of the current season will be presented at the Palace theater Thursday night, a "bonus" concert featuring Phillip MacGregor, baritone, and the Marion Lecture-Recital club chorus directed by Miss Elizabeth Edgar.

COUNCIL

$207.50 a month, and chief $247.50 a month. The same rates apply to the fire department.

In their petition the police department members cited the rapid rise in the cost of living. As an example they declared that a full uniform now costs $175 and pointed out that they are required to provide two uniforms at their own expense.

The request was referred to the finance and municipal service committees by Council President William G. Slack.

Another request for increased pay came from surgery aids in City hospital. It was signed by three employes there but asked for no specific amount. The aids now receive $100 a month. This was referred to the finance committee and the safety-service director.

Garbage Service Inquiry

A communication addressed to council from Smith-Douglas Contractors, Inc., of Springfield, Mo., made inquiry into the possibility of taking over the collection of garbage in the city. Council took no action on the matter but some members expressed the opinion it might be a good idea to dispose of the present municipally operated collection service. President Slack referred the letter to municipal service committee and the safety-service director.

Council passed an ordinance to levy special assessments against benefitted property for the construction of a storm and sanitary sewer in Patten street from Greenwood street to the first alley west of Patterson street. The assessments will be at the rate of $4.90 a foot front with latterals to cost $54.80. The project is estimated to cost $5,261.08.

Other Council Action

In other matters council took the following action:

Voted an ordinance to proceed with construction of storm and sanitary sewers in Smith street from Cheney avenue to the Prospect pike.

Voted a resolution to give notice of assessment against property owners for sewer improvements in Pies avenue, Bennett street, Glad street and Nye street.

Passed an ordinance authorizing the city solicitor to settle for one-half the face amount of a $414.86 note signed by Kermit Converse for the care at City hospital of the late Rev. James S. Beard, who died without leaving an estate.

Voted an ordinance providing for payment of $75 to the Smith Home for Funerals for the burial expenses of Mrs. Louise Clark Phillips, an indigent.

Passed an ordinance authorizing Safety-Service Director E. O. Uncapher to contract for supplies needed during the year by various city departments.

Referred to the city planning commission a request from Charles W. and Edith L. Patrick for transfer from the residential zone to the commercial zone of a tract at the southwest corner of Hill and South Main street to permit erection of a room for the display of antiques.

Adopted a resolution directing James A. Mautz to provide bond in the amount of $2,000 in his new position as business supervisor of the City hospital.

Passed a resolution providing for an overhead street light at the intersection of Oak Grove and Uncapher avenue.

Passey a resolution authorizing James L. Bougher to enlarge an unloading chute in Court street to serve a new restaurant now being remodeled opposite the courthouse.

Heard a report that the degree of hardness of city water ranged from a high of 7.8 grains to a low of 7.3 in the month of February.

LIONS HEAR TALK ON SAFETY PROGRAM

Erie Policeman Tells of Work Among Children.

A safety program concerning children's safety around railroads was presented at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Lions club Monday at Hotel Harding. Victor Gillis, patrolman with the Erie Railroad police department, who with a number of men have been giving safety talks in schools throughout the east, was guest speaker, and Thomas Brown of Warren, O., an amateur magician, who works with the men and gives lessons in safety to the children with his magic tricks, presented a safety demonstration.

Mr. Gillis explained the safety program which is conducted in the schools, and stated that the safety lecture was given before 5,500 students in schools in Marion.

Mr. Brown's program was entitled "Safety Magic," and he explained that the uses magic along with his talks on safety in order to keep the children interested. He stated that eight years ago, when the lectures were started, there were 32 juvenile accidents alon the Erie railroad lines in the district from Chicago to Jersey City, N. J., the section which the men cover in their safety campaigns in that year. He then compared that number with three juvenile accidents in the same district in 1946.

Program chairman was Virgil Johnson.

The club voted to indorse the Cramer-Daniel bill which would provide additional state aid for the public schools. Cecil Gabler, president, announced a Lions club is being formed in Carey with a charter night banquet March 20, and that several members are planning to attend.

Guests were J. V. Morris, sales engineer with the Tractor and Equipment Co. of Daventry, England, Owen Meddles of Marion, field executive for the Harding Area, Boy Scouts of America, and Blaine McCoy of Marion.

HOME NEAR KENTON DESTROYED BY FIRE

Special to The Star

KENTON — Fire believed to have originated from sparks of a flue burned a 14-room farm home south of Kenton to the ground Saturday night and made homeless a family of eight.

The entire roof of the home was discovered to be in flames by James Mullady, 20, the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mullady as he started to retire for the evening. The loss was estimated at several thousand of dollars.

Girl Scouts Give To Nurses' Home Fund

A contribution of $15 was made to the proposed nurses' home at a meeting of Troop No. 32, Girl Scouts of Oakland Heights school at the weekly meeting Friday afternoon at the school.

Mrs. H. K. Mouser was a guest speaker and gave a talk on the proposed nurses' home. Mrs. Hubert Turner, scout leader, gave a talk on activities of the troop. Present at the meeting were Mrs. Edward Craft, Mrs. Smith Neville, Miss Rhea King and Miss Violet McBride, school principal.

Manufacturers' Council Elects E. W. Barnhart

E. W. Barnhart, general manager of the General Excavator Co. of Rose avenue, was elected chairman of the Manufacturers' council of the Marion Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon meeting Monday noon in Hotel Harding.

He replaces J. B. Bray as president of the council, Robert LaMarch, secretary of the American Malleable Casting Co. of West Center street, was elected vice chairman, replacing Mr. Barnhart.

A visitor of the council was R. W. MacGregor of Chicago, auditor for the Quaker Oats Co.

Burial Rites Held For Crawford Co. Woman

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, March 11—Funeral services were conducted this afternoon in Sulphur Springs St. John's Lutheran church for Mrs. Mary Ada Becker, 85, who died at her Sulphur Springs home Monday. Interment was made in Union cemetery near Sulphur Springs.

Mrs. Becker, a school teacher in her early life, is survived by one son, Fernleigh Lineaweaver of Sao Paulo, Brazil, where he is associated with the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., and a brother, Allen O. Becker of Eau Clair, Mich.

She was twice married, both husbands preceding her in death. Her first marriage united her with Cyrus Lineaweaver and the second with John W. Becker.

Gra-Y Teams Active With 4 Tilts Played

City Gra-Y teams were active Saturday afternoon as four games were played and two squads won through default.

The closest of the afternoon was the Silver Street-Oakland meet in which the teams matched points through four periods and Silver finally out-scored their opponent five to four in the extra period to gain a 27 to 26 victory.

In other games Pearl Street rolled over Mark 22 to 8, St. Mary trampled Forest Lawn 31 to 12, and Glenwood posted a 24 to 16 win over Oak.

George Washington forfeited to Greenwood and Olney forfeited to North Main.

BIG FOUR

keeping all the other wartime Allies informed about the German treaty and of giving them a chance to express their views.

He would have the council create a committee of either 12 or 18 smaller countries, represented by their ambassadors here, to cooperate with the council in this work. Russia has expressed belief that the number be limited to 12, the countries adjacent to or invaded by Germany, while the British and Americans want 18, all the countries actively engaged in the fight against the Nazis.

Deputies of the foreign ministers assigned Austrian questions set up a special committee today at the insistence of U. S. Gen. Mark W. Clark to handle a French compromise proposal on the disposition of German assets in Austria.

The deputies, taking up work where they left off in London, met in what one sources said was "an amiable frame of mind."

A wave of speculation followed Molotov's unheralded proposal and some sources suggested that Russia might be maneuvering to seek joint American, British and Russian intervention in China.

May Embarrass U. S.

There also was the possibility that Russia might be trying to embarrass the United States because of the recent U. S. failure to end China's civil strife. In addition, some quarters thought Russia might be trying to produce a new big power agreement concerning China.

In 1945 Big Three agreement reached in Moscow, upon which Molotov based yesterday's proposal, specified that the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union "re-affirmed their adherence to the policy of non-interference in the internal affairs of China."

Whatever his aim, Molotov appeared headed for an ultimate, if not immediate, clash with Marshall on the China question, in addition to the scheduled disputes over German and Austrian peace treaties.

Stresses Hands-Off Attitude

Marshall's policy, after 13 months of trying—and failing—to produce peace in China, currently stresses a hands-off attitude to give Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and Chinese Communists a chance to work out their own salvation.

Marshall's first reaction to the Molotov suggestion, persons present said, was to comment that in any discussion of the Chinese question, China should be represented. Molotov did not agree and Marshall said he would have to have time to think about the idea.

The U. S. secretary, attending his first Big Four conference, then made his suggestion concerning the withdrawal of occupation forces and Molotov replied that he would need time to think that one over before replying.

Otherwise, the conference seemed to be off to an amiable beginning, with the ministers agreed on the agenda established at the last session in New York and on a decision to let deputy foreign ministers proceed with their work on German and Austrian treaties.

The British and Americans were especially pleased with the agreement to give the Austrian peace treaty equal treatment with that for Germany.

Russia Seems Intent On Putting U. S. on Spot

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, March 11 — The Soviet Union appeared intent today upon placing the United State on a spot for its role in China and to let the chips fall where they may concerning any personal embarrassment to U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall for his part in attempting to end Chinese warfare.

Editorial comment in the government newspaper Izvestia, hailing Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's proposal to place the Chinese problem on the four-power foreign ministers' council agenda as timely, indicated that the Russians believe the United States did not keep its word on troop withdrawal and non-interference in the internal affairs of China.

The Russians contend also, of course, that the United States and Britain have not kept their word concerning the Potsdam decisions.

Izvestia said outright that there now was an urgent necessity to check on how the decisions taken by the three-power foreign ministers meeting in Moscow in December, 1945, were being carried out.

4 More Veterans' Families Housed

Four more veterans have been notified housing units are available for them at the GI housing project near Lincoln park, Charles E. Messenger, operator-maintenance man, said today.

They are expected to start moving in today. The four new families will bring the total now at the settlement to 10 families. The first six moved in last week. All have children.

Those who have been notified are Myron Smith of 390 North Prospect street, William E. Barrett of 788 Woodrow avenue, Merlin Mitton of 120 East Columbia street and Damon Leroy Everly of 800 Wilson avenue.

Clarence Taylor, contractor's representative at the project, said four more dwelling units will probably be available next week. Plumbing supplies needed to complete still more of the total of 50 units to be constructed have arrived, he said, and if plumbing labor is available, the project should continue to move nearer completion.

Mr. Messenger emphasized that lists are already drawn up and persons will be called as the units become available.

More War Pictures To Be Shown at Legion Post

Another of the weekly programs of action pictures of World War II will be held Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the clubrooms of GI Post, American Legion, at the rear of the Midway restaurant.

The feature film will be a continuation of last week's feature and is tiled, "Divide and Conquer." The film shows Hitler's enslaving of small democracies. Denmark, Norway, Holland and Belgium, the invasion of France and the driving of the British back into Dunkerque.

A combat film will show activities in the European theater of operation, the use of DDT in jungle fighting, the reclamation of trays from scrap metal and Stillwell's road convoy. The final combat picture will show Luzon operations. The March of Time will feature interesting scenes in Texas.

BUCYRUS MOTORIST FINED

GALION — Alfred Rose, who gave his address as route 2, Bucyrus, was fined $35 and costs and given a 60-day jail sentence when tried in Mayor William Amann's court Monday afternoon, on a charge of failing to stop after an accident. The jail sentence will be suspended if he pays fine and costs, and providing he does not drive his car or any other car for a period of six months.

TWO LOS ANGELES WOMEN FOUND SLAIN

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, March 11—The body of a woman, clad only in a nightgown and strangled with an electric cord, was found today on a river bed in suburban Norwalk —a few hours after a one-time film studio legal expert was found bludgeoned to death near the Los Angeles city hall.

The sheriff's office, which flashed first details of the new killing—fourth in three months involving women in and near Los Angeles—said the victim had not been identified.

Only a few hours earlier, the body of Evelyn Winters, 42, for 14 years attached to the music and legal departments of Paramount studio as a copyright expert, was discovered in an industrial section a short distance from the civic center, and police acknowledged they were without a "good lead" to her slayer.

Still unsolved are the "Black Dahlia" slaying of Elizabeth Short, 22, Medford, Mass., film bopeful, whose severed body was found in a vacant lot Jan. 15, and the tramping to death of Mrs. Jeanne French, 45, nurse and aviatrix, whose body, inscribed obscenely with lipstick, was discovered in a field Feb. 10.

Det.-Lieut. Charles King said Miss Winters was identified by fingerprints from arrests on charges of resorting, intoxication and driving an automobile while intoxicated.

Columbus Firm Buys Home Super Market

The Home Super Market of 729 Silver street has been sold by Anthony Scaffidi to Columbus incorporators.

According to the Associated Press today, articles of incorporation have been issued by the secretary of state to May J. Hearley, Charles E. Connor and John D. Connor, all of Columbus.

The firm will be known in the future as the Home Super Markets Inc. Leo T. Wagenbrenner of Columbus, will be president; Robert J. Flannigan, also of Columbus, vice president, and Clifford Wein of Marion will be secretary-treasurer and general manager.

Plan of the incorporators, according to John D. Connor, is to continue operating the store as at present with possible expansion in the future.

UNION CO. AGENCIES SEEK IMPROVED PHONE SERVICE

Groups To File Complaints with State Utilities Commission.

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, March 11—G. L. Kingsmore has been named chairman of a group of representatives of rural agencies, civic clubs, and business organizations who Thursday night completed plans to take the first step in a program by which they hope to improve telephone service in Union county. William Faulkner of Marysville was elected secretary of the group.

The group, representing eight Granges, 29 farm councils, the Lions and Kiwanis clubs of Marysville and a number of interested subscribers in the county, plan to file complaints with the utilities commission of Ohio.

Petitions bearing specific complaints will be circulated throughout the county and when the petitions have been signed by dissatisfied subscribers the petitions will be sent to the state utilities commission. Majority of the complaints related at the first meeting centered about delays in placing calls, overcrowding of party lines, noisy reception, smallness of the toll-free area, and the lack of a time limit on calls.

INFLUENZA CLOSES TWO OHIO SCHOOLS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 11—Outbreaks of influenza closed public schools in two Ohio cities today but reports from other communities indicated no alarming increases of the disease.

Schools at Cambridge, O., were closed yesterday because of widespread cases of flu and colds among pupils and teachers.

Officials at Gallipolis, O., planned to reopen schools tomorrow to determine how many of the 1,500 pupils still were suffering from flu. An outbreak there resulted in an order for a two-day closing.

At Norwalk, O., Superintendent Homer Ellis said he would close the schools if the disease spread seriously. Several pupils and teachers were reported stricken there over the weekend.

At Cincinnati, school and health officials said there were no indications influenza had reached alarming proportions.

Marion Concern Granted Incorporation Articles

Articles of incoporation for the Marion Castings Co. were issued in the office of the secretary of state in Columbus today, The Associated Press reported.

Incorporators are E. M. Breitenbaupt and J. F. Lacey of Marion and Frank M. Gore of Akron. Attorney Edward Ruzzo handled the incorporation proceedings. The concern has a capitalization of $25,000.

It was reported today the new concern would operate a small foundry in Marion but that plans for the venture had not been completed.

Former Morrow Co. Commissioner Dies

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, March 11 — Arthur Allen Brollier, 76, a former Morrow county commissioner, died in his home here at 4:30 a. m. today after an illness of several weeks.

Born Feb. 14, 1871, at Lock, O., he was a son of Frank and Matilda Vernon Brollier. He was engaged in farming most of his life, was a member of the Masonic lodge, of the Gilead Grange, and of First Church of Christ Scientist in Marion. Serving two terms as county commissioner, he was in office first from 1936 to 1940, then was elected for a four-year term in 1944. He resigned March 1 this year because of ill health.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Blanche Brollier, a daughter, Mrs. W. M. Elsa of Columbus, three sons, Elmer of Mt. Gilead, Russell of Mansfield and Paul of Elizabeth, N. J., two brothers, Clyde of Mt. Gilead and Raymond of Ashley, and a half-sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Dide of Los Angeles, Calif. The body was taken to the Craven funeral home.

LEGISLATURE

wartime surtax of from one-tenth per cent to one per cent levied on employers to build up unemployment compensation funds for benefits to jobless war workers.

A new plan for paying bonuses to veterans was proposed by Rep. James J. Barton (R-Cuyahoga) It calls for issuance of $200,000,000 in bonds to be retired by a tax on real estate for payment of $150 bonuses for more than 60 days domestic service and $250 for foreign duty. Payments of $50 would be made to those in service less than 50 days and heirs of service dead would get $250.

It was the 12th program offered in the legislature to pay bonuses or pensions to Ohio World War II veterans. House and senate sub-committees will meet again tomorrow in an attempt to agree on a bonus plan on which they have been conducting hearings.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

"WHY, the old—" Licky began to explode over the telephone, and I interrupted him sharply.

"Remember what telephone you're using!" I warned, and he caught himself up sharply.

"I'll leave it until I see you," he said, "but please expect some tall and fancy cussing when I get a chance to cut loose."

"I'll listen to it gladly," I said, "but wait until we are alone. Mary doesn't yet know how angry the great man is."

Wants an Explanation

"'Wait till we are alone'," he repeated. "What d'ye mean? You're not expecting me to barge in on Mary again, are you?"

"That's exactly what I am expecting," I said. "Mary isn't even annoyed at you, now. She simply went off the handle because she was so wrought up. But she did say that if Noel called her to account the way you did, she didn't know whether she'd kiss him or scratch his eyes out. That, I think, is why she doesn't want to meet him for the first time alone, and that's where you come in."

"Rather, where I probably go out on my ear," my husband said plaintively, and I hastened to reassure him.

"Not if you'll do as I ask you," I said.

"Light of my life!" he apostrophized. "Star of my Existence! Also, Lamble Pie! When, since I first led you kicking and screaming to the altar, have I ever failed to do your bidding?"

"I could give you dates and places," I told him, "but I'll refrain."

Bitter Reproach

"Caster-up!" he reproached me bitterly. "But proceed! Tell me what you want."

"I want you to come over to my study in about ten minutes," I told him. "I'm going directly back there now, and Olga is going back to her own apartment as soon as I get back to the study. She came down to let the party of the second part sort out his emotions, and perhaps rein them in. She didn't want him to go on record before her."

"Wise dame!" Dicky commented. "And with a rare knowledge of masculine human nature. But, go on! Sorry I interrupted."

"Come in as if nothing had happened," I said. "Grab Mary in your arms, give her a big hug and some kisses, and tell her how glad you are that she came home to us. Tell her you didn't mean to call her to account, but that she surprised you so and scared you so, for fear there was something wrong, that you said the first thing that came into your head."

"You have explained things far better than I could," he said. "I'll follow your directions."

"From that point on, you take charge," I said. "But remember, the main point is getitng her to meet Noel by herself. I am counting on your being able to see the masculine viewpoint. She will concede, I know, that you are an authority on that, while she would laugh, secretly or openly, at any explanation I could make on how Noel was feeling."

"Just let me catch her laughing at you!" he said truculently.

"You won't catch her laughing," I assured him, "because I am going to say no word on the subject of Noel, except to appeal to you as to your thought upon the subject. Rather, I wish you would volunteer your opinion when the subject is broached. You will know when the psychological moment comes."

"Never met one in my life," my husband returned airily . . . "But I'll try to catch your cues."

"I know you won't miss any," I told him. "And now I must go back."

"In ten minutes, I'm to appear," he said hurriedly, "Is that right?"

"Absolutely correct," I checked. "Good-bye."

I hung up the receiver and hurried back to my study. Mary was in the same position on the couch, and I lifted inquiring eyebrows to Olga.

"Still asleep?" I queried softly.

"She hasn't moved since you left," she parried, and I knew that she was still as uncertain as I was about the genuineness of Mary's slumber.

"Will you say good-bye to her for me when she wakens," she asked, "and tell her to remember what I said about standing by her?"

"I'll do that," I answered.

As the door closed behind her, Mary sat up abruptly.

"I believe I've been asleep," she said.
